Gay Lisbon Hails President's Visit

Lisbon, Portugal (AP)—President Eisenhower flew in Thursday from the cold of a dead summit conference to a warm welcome from 250,000 Portuguese shouting "Viva Eisenhower" and "we like Ike."

The wave of affection rolling over the President brought out the famous Eisenhower smile as he rode in an open car through this capital's streets in a downpour of brightly colored confetti.

Once in his quarters in Queluz Palace, however, his mood sobered as he called for the Western powers to work even harder for peace, despite the failure of the Paris summit meeting.

Tighten Belts

"Rather than being dismayed," he told assembled U.S. employes, "we must tighten our belts, keep our chins up and each of us work a little harder for the great cause of peace with justice and freedom."

Eisenhower discussed briefly the breakup of the summit meeting by Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev's demand that he publicly apologize for the U2 spy flight over the Soviet Union.

"While none of the free world thought that there would be any revolutionary gains at the summit conference," he said, "they did feel that there was a good chance of some amelioration of some of the tensions in the world.

Did Our Best

"You deserve to know that the representatives of the United States, the United Kingdom and France did our very best to bring about that condition. We answered abuse with dignity and logic. We answered accusations with facts."

The President referred to Portugal, a partner with the United States in the North Atlantic Treaty Organization, as a tremendous friend and ally and, in another allusion to the summit debacle, he said:

"Whenever these situations occur, we have to work ever stronger to strengthen our own camp and bring it ever closer together."

Eisenhower spoke at a private reception for Americans working in Portugal.

Address

Before leaving Paris, Eisenhower made his first public comment on the collapse at the summit but without answering the insults hurled at him by Khrushchev. He said at Paris' Orly airport:

"I share the disappointment of my colleagues that, because of our inability to convene the summit conference, we could make no progress for easing the tensions which so plague mankind.

"But I fully share their confidence that because of this setback, we of the Western allies, and particularly France, Britain and the United States, both through their governments and through their people, are joined even closer than before in a determined pursuit of peace with justice in the world."

HEARTY WELCOME FOR IKE ASSURED

AMERICANS SAY GOODBYE TO NIKITA

LABOR BACKS EISENHOWER

. . . On Eve Of Return To U.S.

Washington (UPI)—Congress and organized labor threw new support behind President Eisenhower Thursday as Washington got ready for a heart-warming "Welcome Ike" Friday on his return from the crumpled Summit conference.

For the fourth day in a row, Democratic leader Lyndon B. Johnson (Tex) opened the Senate with a show-of-unity speech. He voiced confidence the nation had the internal fortitude to "stand up to the problem before us."

Joining to back up Eisenhower on the eve of his return was AFL-CIO President George Meany, who often disagrees with the President on domestic matters. He declared that "the workers of this country stand behind President Eisenhower."

America United

In a special homecoming statement, Meany said Nikita S. Khrushchev's "intemperate and insulting denunciations" of the President had united America instead of dividing it as the Soviet premier hoped.

Meany said the workers' confidence in the peaceful intentions of their government were "matched only by their thorough mistrust of the intentions of Soviet Russia.

The White House said it received several hundred telegrams Thursday which overwhelmingly supported the President." Acting press Secretary Wayne Hawks said there were "darned few that were even critical."

Many Letters

Hawks also said that about 1,000 letters, in addition to the normal flow of 3,000, were received Thursday. He said the letters had not been sifted but that they usually reflect the same sentiment as telegrams.

Johnson denounced Russia's decision to take the U-2 spy plane case to the United Nations as a propaganda stunt. He said the maneuver might mean something if Russia had not used the U.N. to block all attempts to settle real world issues.

The president was scheduled to arrive in the capital at 3 p.m. (EDT) (1 p.m. CST) Friday from the Summit conference where he was forced to sit tight-lipped while Khrushchev heaped abuse on him.

Eisenhower was refreshed by the rousing reception given him in Lisbon during a one-day stopover in strongly Anti-communist Portugal.

Millionaire Reminds Khrushchev Of Washington And 'Cherry Tree'

Paris (AP)—American multi-millionaire Cyrus Eaton told Nikita Khrushchev the story of George Washington and the cherry tree Thursday in a hurriedly arranged post summit talk at Orly airport.

Some Americans were shocked by Eaton's approach to the Soviet Premier in the light of Khrushchev's summit-wrecking lashings at President Eisenhower.

In Washington, Sen. Thomas J. Dodd (D-Conn) told the U.S. Senate Eaton should be prosecuted under a law forbidding private citizens from dealing with foreign powers to influence U.S. policy.

Eaton, now 76, has met with Khrushchev before in his avowed campaign to bring peace between East and West. Earlier this month the Russians announced the award of a Lenin peace prize to Eaton.

The Cleveland industrialist and his wife were rushed to Khrushchev's plane by Soviet diplomats for the 10-minute talk before the Soviet Premier left for Berlin.

Reporting to newsmen on his conversation with Khrushchev, Eaton said he told the Soviet leader George Washington "repeatedly warned the United States it must never permit its foreign policies to be based on prejudice or hatred of another nation."

"The thing for which Washington was most famous was that when accused of chopping down a cherry tree, he replied he could not tell a lie," Eaton said he reminded the Soviet Premier a day after Khrushchev's diatribe against the United States.

Twister Whips Across Kansas

. . . ONE DEAD, MANY INJURED

Topeka, Kan. (AP)—A tornado skipped and slashed over a path at least 75 miles long across northeastern Kansas Thursday night as thunderstorms crackled over a 3-state area.

At least one person was killed and 28 injured by the tornado that leveled uncounted farm homes and smashed through the small communities of Elmont and Meriden.

The body of Mrs. Mildred Hundley was found in the wreckage of her tavern in Meriden, a town of about 400 9 miles north of Topeka.

Power Out

Another massive system of thunderstorms lashed the tri-state corner of Oklahoma, Kansas and Missouri. Electric power was knocked out in Miami, Okla.; Galena, Baxter Springs and Columbus in southeast Kansas; Carthage, Neosho and Nevada in Missouri.

The big tornado, striking out of a widespread area of thunderstorms, originated south of Wamego, Kan., and last dipped down near Leavenworth, Kan., next to the Missouri river.

The Meriden tornado skipped over the town of Rossville, 600 population, northwest of Topeka, then barrelled up out of the river valley and across the uplands.

Homes Hit

Homes near the little community of Elmont were smashed, then the tornado crashed through Meriden, a town of about 400, 9 miles north of Topeka.

The Highway Patrol said U.S. 75 was so littered with debris it was difficult for ambulances to reach the stricken area north of Topeka.

Meriden was dark and in a state of chaos after the funnel passed.

Survivors were trying to find their way around by flickering flashlights.

Ken Bronson of the Topeka Daily Capital—the first newsman in Meriden—said:

Frantic

"This town is frantic," he said. "There are no lights. You're lost if you don't have a flashlight. The gas line is broken and gas is spewing around.

"You can't tell when a building is going to fall down.

"Most of mainstreet had been damaged. The railroad depot was completely destroyed and an hour after the twister struck, business structures began caving and cracking.

Mendenhall Chosen For Roads Post

Kirk Mendenhall, 47-year-old North Platte businessman and former mayor of that city, was appointed to the Nebraska Highway Advisory Commission Thursday by Gov. Ralph Brooks.

Mendenhall

Mendenhall succeeds the late Ray Ogier of North Platte, Commission chairman who died April 25.

Gov. Brooks said Mendenhall will attend the Commission's next meeting scheduled in Lincoln Monday.

Mendenhall, vice president of the Central Nebraska Packing Co. which manufactures dog food, was elected mayor of North Platte in 1951 and served two years.

In 1952 the North Platte Junior Chamber of Commerce named him "Boss of the Year." He has served as president of the Tri-Trails Boy Scout Council.

A Republican

The appointment of Mendenhall, a Republican, maintains the Commission at 4 Democrats and 3 Republicans. Nebraska law provides that not more than 4 members may be from one political party.

BRITONS WALK OUT OF STATE

Omaha (AP) — Sgts. Patrick Maloney and Mervyn Evans, British paratroopers who are out to set a record for a west-east walk across the United States, completed their trek across Nebraska Thursday night and moved into Council Bluffs, Iowa, for an overnight stop.

They were 10 days crossing Nebraska and are slightly ahead of their schedule. Both expressed confidence they will break the 79-day record for the cross-country walk from San Francisco to New York.

Beatrice Man Dies In Wreck

Beatrice (UPI)—William H. Hautzenroder, Beatrice businessman, was killed Thursday afternoon in a one-car accident on Neb. 4 about 9 miles east of here.

Gage County authorities said Hautzenroder was alone in the car, which left the highway and turned over 3 or 4 times. The accident may have been caused by a blowout, it was believed.

Hautzenroder, operator of a service station, was dead on arrival at a hospital.

The death was Nebraska's 75th traffic fatality of the year, compared with 104 a year ago this date.

We'll Prove Charges 'Fallacious' Before Security Council—Lodge

Washington (UPI) — The U.S. Ambassador to the United Nations, Henry Cabot Lodge, said Thursday night this country would prove in the Security Council that Russia's charges of U.S. "aggression" are "fallacious."

Lodge talked with reporters as he arrived here for weekend talks with President Eisenhower and Secretary of State Christian A. Herter. They will prepare for Monday's Security Council meeting called by Russia over the U-2 spy plane incident.

"I think we will be able to prove the Soviet item is fallacious," he said, "and that we will do so to the satisfaction of any impartial person."

Hit Hard

He left no doubt the United States would hit hard at the need for intelligence measures because of the danger of surprise attack by Russia.

Instead of debating charges and countercharges dealing with the symptoms of the disease, we would do better to go at the disease itself," Lodge said.

"The disease itself is the danger of surprise attack by nuclear weapons," he said.

Lodge indicated the United States might not present President Eisenhower's plan for U.N. aerial reconnaissance at this session.

"That may be done some time," he said, "but not as a tactical counter measure to the Russian item. We would want our proposal to have a calm and cool hearing."

Storms Damage, Corn, Farmland

. . . SHOWERS EAST TODAY

The severe thunderstorms —accompanied by high winds, hail and rain—which whipped through Nebraska Wednesday night and early Thursday caused some damage to farm buildings and washing of newly-planted corn.

Heavy rain in the Seward County area washed newly-planted crops, with corn being the hardest hit; winds up to 70 m.p.h. in the Trenton Dam area ripped shingles off roofs and overturned a few small farm buildings.

Traffic on U.S. 77 south of the Wahoo bridge had to be rerouted early Thursday morning when Wahoo Creek overflowed its banks covering the highway bridge south of town.

A motel near the bridge was successfully sandbagged to keep out the high water, and a few trailers were evacuated for a short time.

U.S. 92 and 30A near Weston covered with water for a short time, but the waters receded before daybreak.

Heavy hail in the Lexington area stripped trees and shrubs; and alfalfa and wheat fields looked as though they had been mowed, it was reported.

Hail the size of baseballs was unofficially reported from 12 to 14 miles south of Eustis causing damage to some buildings.

Heavy rains were reported at Franklin, 2.44 inches; Seward, 3.25; Staplehurst, 2.00; Sutton, 2.70; Clay Center, 2.22; Raymond, 2.45 and Agnew, 2.70.

Showers East

A few scattered showers are expected in the eastern portion of the state Friday, with partly cloudy skies expected in the west.

Highs Friday will range from the 50s northwest to 70 southeast.

Omaha reported the state high Thursday with 74 degrees, while the mercury dropped to 38 for the state low at Sidney. Lincoln reported a high of 68 and a low 58.

Youth Held In Hit, Run Auto Death

Pender (AP)—A 19-year-old Macy youth was held in the Thurston County jail Thursday in connection with a hit-and-run automobile accident in which Peter Saunsoci, about 50, of Macy was fatally injured.

Deputy Sheriff F. L. Boyd said the youth, Leroy Harlan, had admitted he was driving the car which rammed the rear of the Saunsoci car on U.S. 73 near Macy last Saturday, causing it to go out of control.

Boyd said Harlan probably will be charged with motor vehicle homicide.

Investigation

He said the investigation is continuing, but there was no assurance there would be additional charges in the case. He said there were two persons in the rear seat of the car driven by Harlan and 3 in front at the time of the accident.

East Germany Greets Subdued Nikita

HE TALKS ABOUT NEW SUMMIT

. . . 6-8 Months Hence

Berlin (AP) — Nikita S. Khrushchev arrived from Paris in worried, divided Berlin Thursday and spoke soothingly about another Summit conference in 6 to 8 months.

"It is clear," said the solemn Soviet premier, "that the Soviet Union and other freedom-loving countries must analyze the consequences, but we do not renounce our policy of seeking a relaxation of tension and of peaceful coexistence."

But once more he accused the United States of wrecking the Summit conference.

Cheering Thousands

He arrived at Schoenfeld Airport, outside East Berlin, and was greeted by top East German communists and about 1,300 party functionaries. Then he rode into East Berlin past crowds of cheering thousands. West Berliners said it was the biggest reception he ever received in East Berlin.

"In this situation," Khrushchev said mildly, in an airport speech, "time is required, the effort of all peoples and governments is required to carry out a Summit conference after 6 or 8 months."

The tired-looking bespectacled man with his fringe of white hair read his speech in a dull, routine tone.

No Mention of Apology

In speaking of a new Summit conference after the U.S. election, he did not say anything about again demanding an apology from the United States for the spy flight over the Soviet Union.

Nor did he make any new threats against West Berlin, whose border is only about 3 miles from where he spoke.

Bev Aadland Put In Custody Of Minister

Los Angeles (AP) — Beverly Aadland, the girl who gallivanted with Errol Flynn, was plucked from the boister world of her party-loving mother Thursday and placed in custody of a soft-spoken Baptist minister.

Beverly

The 17-year-old blonde will live with the Rev. Leonard Eilers and his family on a 10-acre ranch in the San Fernando Valley until at least Sept. 20. Another Juvenile Court hearing will be held then.

Beverly and her mother, 53-year-old Mrs. Florence Aadland, expressed delight at the decision that parted them.

Mrs. Aadland will be permitted to visit Beverly.

The hearing was closed, but Mrs. Aadland's lawyers told newsmen what went on inside.

Attorney Burton Marks said Judge Allen Miller ruled in effect "that Beverly is a bad girl but not real bad. He said the allegations that she engaged in acts of prostitution for $100 a night with male adults were not sustained by the evidence."

Final Tally Gives Martin 169 Lead

Omaha (AP)—David Martin of Kearney held a lead of 169 votes over Monroe Bixler of Harrison for the Fourth District Republican nomination for Congress with completion of the count in the district.

The final Scotts Bluff County totals, last to come in, were Martin 965 and Bixler 3,120.

This gave Martin a district total of 15,701 and Bixler one of 15,532.

Niobrara Bridge Repairs Include 2 60-Foot Spans

The Niobrara bridge, expected to be open to traffic in two or 3 weeks, will be repaired with 3 spans replacing the two that were knocked out in March flooding.

G. C. Strobel, acting deputy state engineer, said Thursday the two 60-foot spans and one 80-foot span were already owned by the state and are to be hauled in from Columbus, Beaver City and Atkinson.

The Norfolk Bridge and Construction Co., which contracted for the repairs, is working from a low level road in the river bed protected by a dike.

Strobel said it is hoped that heavy rains would not damage the dike during the work. If so, completion could be delayed.

Population At McCook Increases

McCook apparently is the only county seat in the 6 western Nebraska counties which has shown an increase in population since 1950.

The western Nebraska city now has 8,220 residents as compared with 7,678 in 1950. However, Red Willow County itself has dropped in population as have Chase, Dundy, Hayes, Hitchcock and Frontier Counties. Red Willow lost about 70 residents.

Frontier County had 5,282 residents in 1950 but has declined to 4,316. The county seat, Stockville, has lost almost 50% of its residents with a present population of 91 as compared to 181 in 1950.

Dodge County's population has risen 16.3% in the last decade it was reported Thursday. It had 27,787 residents in 1950 and now has 32,303. Fremont's figures were reported earlier.

Population figures for both 1950 and 1960 of other Dodge County towns are:

	1950	1960
Inglewood	100	779
North Bend	906	1,170
Nickerson	140	167
Scribner	913	1,067

Allentown, Pa., (UPI) — Britain Garrett Roth, 98, one of America's oldest active newsmen, died at his home here.

Roth, who said he remembered the night Lincoln was shot, had been a member of the working press for 58 years.

At the time of his death, he was a columnist for the Allentown Evening Chronicle, the same newspaper on which he began his news career in 1902.

Adlai Asserts Republicans Hinder Talks

Chicago (AP) — Adlai Stevenson Thursday night asserted that successful negotiations with the Russians will be impossible as long as the Republicans are in power.

He reiterated that the United States had made a "series of blunders."

The 1952 and 1956 Democratic nominee for President called the Eisenhower administration's diplomacy clumsy and served notice that some Democrats will criticize "carelessness and mistakes" of government in the campaign ahead.

Stevenson, in a speech prepared for a $100-a-plate dinner sponsored by the Democratic Cook County Committee, declared Republican leaders say that everybody must rally around President Eisenhower in the crisis that boiled up at the summit conference in Paris.

Dow announces a major automotive development

NEW PRODUCT OUTMODES WATER AND ANTIFREEZE

DOWGARD*

World's first year 'round cooling system fluid

New scientific formulation replaces water in summer, antifreeze in winter. Stops rust and corrosion damage, protects against freezing and overheating for 12 full months. Offers new concept of carefree motoring – summer and winter. Should be installed now for greatest benefits!

If you value performance and economy, you will want to have this new product from Dow installed in your cooling system immediately.

You see, ordinary water—even with the addition of antifreeze or a rust inhibitor—can cause rust and corrosion in your cooling system. This can lead to poor gas mileage, ping, knock, reduced heater-defroster efficiency. And, if left unchecked, burned valves, warped cylinders and heads can result.

If left unchecked, rust coating on cylinder walls can clog water passages

New concept—Complete fill

However, now you can end worrisome cooling system problems by having DOWGARD cooling system fluid installed in your car. It is a complete formulation, a new blend of protective chemicals and specially treated deionized water. DOWGARD fills the cooling system completely from top to bottom. Nothing else is added—no water, antifreeze or rust inhibitors!

Lasts one full year

DOWGARD protects from 240°F. above zero to 40°F. below. It is the only coolant you can buy that prevents overheating in summer, freezing in winter.

Why now? Stops summer rust

Rust and corrosion can form many times faster in summer than in winter. This is particularly true when old antifreeze is left in the cooling system. The only sure way to prevent this damage, and the trouble it brings, is to have DOWGARD installed now.

Sold only at service dealers

Get DOWGARD at your regular service dealer and enjoy the equivalent of a sealed cooling system for one full year. It's a premium product that gives your car the protection it deserves—one of the wisest investments you can make. *TRADEMARK

Japan House OK's Security Treaty Midst Rioting

Tokyo (UPI) — The lower house of the Japanese Diet Friday unanimously ratified the controversial new U.S.-Japan security treaty while a solid cordon of police held off a mob of 20,000 anti-American demonstrators outside the parliament building.

The frustrated Communist-led opponents of the treaty promptly threatened to vent their anger on President Eisenhower when he comes here next month. They also called a mammoth protest meeting for later and serious trouble was feared.

Ratification came in spite of violent demonstrations by anti-American elements at home and threats of dire consequences by Russia and Communist China. It was a swift reply by Prime Minister Nobusuke Kishi's supporters to Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev's vitriolic anti-American outbursts at the Paris summit meeting.

The treaty now goes to the upper house where ratification is expected to be a mere formality.

Strong-Arm

Opposition Socialist deputies and supporters resorted to strong-arm measures inside parliament in an attempt to prevent the house from convening. Outside, a force of 5,000 riot police standing four-deep behind a barricade of trucks parked bumper-to-bumper kept back the mob which threatened for a time to storm the main gate of the Diet compound.

Fist fights raged in the corridors and committee rooms in parliament building. Socialist strong-arm squads tried to block the house session by kidnaping Speaker Ichiro Kiyose and actually held him prisoner in his office for 6 hours until he called in 500 police to clear the corridors.

The socialists tried to break through the door of Kiyose's office before the lower house convened to vote a 50-day extension of its session. But police dragged them away before they could smash through the barricade of bookcases, chairs and tables piled up by the liberal-democrats.

Broken Leg

Socialist Diet member Susumu Kobayashi suffered a broken leg in the melee and several others, including Kiyose, were roughed up.

Then the socialists boycotted the session called by Kiyose at 11 p.m. to approve the Diet extension. The lower house then adjourned but reconvened 13 minutes later, or just after midnight.

Ten minutes later, Kiyose announced: "I am now going to take a vote on the Japan-U.S. security treaty. All who are in favor please stand up."

All of the approximately 260 liberal-democrat deputies who were present rose in a standing vote. The upper house has 30 days to vote on the treaty. If it takes no action by then, the treaty will be approved automatically.

Outside the parliament building, meantime, Communist and socialist speakers harangued a mob which swelled to 20,000 by police estimates. Many stood for hours in heavy rains, chanting anti-government and anti-American slogans, and singing Communist songs to music blaring from loudspeaker vans.

Students

Prominent were some 1,500 members of the ardently leftist National Federation of Students Association (Zengakuren) which has spearheaded a number of violent demonstrations against Kishi, President Eisenhower and the treaty.

When news of the ratification came, Japanese Communist party chief Sanzo Nozaka exhorted the demonstrators to oppose Eisenhower's visit, with force if necessary. Speakers also echoed socialist spokesman Hichiro Matsumoto warning that the opposition never would recognize the "legality" of the treaty.

The treaty pledges joint U.S. and Japanese efforts to defend Japan against aggression.

R.G. Given Proposal For Special Session

. . . FROM LEGISLATIVE CANDIDATE

By Betty Person

A new proposal for a special session of the Legislature has been presented to Gov. Ralph Brooks, but the chief executive said Thursday the specific request was not a "proper consideration" for that body.

Richard Dworak of Omaha, candidate for the Legislature in the 9th District, made the proposal to the governor and said it should be for these two purposes:

—to determine whether legal public hearings were held in Omaha on the Interstate Highway routes.

—whether the constitutional rights of the citizens in the path of the highway through Omaha have been violated.

Long Time Ago

Brooks said, "The matter of legal public hearings was thoroughly canvassed a long time ago and it doesn't take a session of the Legislature to do that.

"And," he continued, "if the constitutional rights of the citizens of Omaha have been violated, those rights cannot be determined by the Legislature, but by the courts.

"The substance for which he asks a special session is not proper consideration for the Legislature either in a special or regular session," Brooks concluded.

Steen Likes Mid-State Project Plan

The Mid-State District, which Thursday was endorsed by the Interior Department for inclusion in the Missouri River Basin project, "fits right in with our plans," State Game Commission Director M. O. Steen said.

He noted that he had appeared personally in hearings before congressional committees in behalf of the Mid-State and that commission statements were also presented during recent hearings.

"As far as we are concerned," Steen said, "The Mid-State project is extremely important."

He said it would be located near the state's more heavily populated areas and would create some 25,000 surface acres of water "which in the main would be well adapted to recreational purposes."

He said reservoirs lying in the hills on the north side of the river bottom would have "a lot of fingers or a lot of edge around each reservoir." This, he explained, would be very important in fish and waterfowl production.

Steen said the reservoirs would also have a "minimum of fluctuation" and that this would be "tremendously advantageous" to wildlife.

Catholic President Opposition Urged

Miami Beach, Fla. (AP)—A resolution opposing the election of a Catholic as President of the United States was introduced from the floor Thursday at the Southern Baptist convention.

The Rev. Wendell G. Davis, pastor of the Midwood Baptist church of Charlotte, N.C., offered the resolution. It was referred to the committee on resolutions, which is scheduled to report at Friday's morning session.

Special Committees Will Aid Mental Health Group

The Lancaster County Assn. for Mental Health met with several community agencies Thursday to discuss the desirability of creating a "helping hand" committee.

Mrs. Enersen

The program, which has been approved and will go into effect immediately, is designed to accomplish 3 purposes:

—To serve as a case-finding and referral program which can assist in the larger community social service structure and to gather statistical facts as to the existing need for emergency assistance for the small but ever-increasing group of Lincoln citizens.

—To act as a public relations measure establishing a closer alliance between community and official agency, and producing extended community understanding of the problems presented in maintaining mental and emotional health in the community.

—To facilitate full use of community resources in a program of emergency assistance for those former mental patients who are revealed to have legitimate needs which cannot be met by established community programs.

The group voted to explore downtown office.

Mrs. L. A. Enersen was re-elected president.

Other newly-elected officers include Judge Herbert Ronin, first vice president; Mrs. Robert Simon, 2nd vice president; Mrs. Glen Deeter, recording secretary; Mrs. Herbert Hedke, corresponding secretary; Norman Gittleson, treasurer, and Kathleen VonGillern, nominating committee chairman.

Joe R. Seacrest, Dr. Roy W. Deal and Lawrence Lynch were named to the board of directors.

Thayer Official Takes Blame For 'Missing' Names

The clerk of Thayer County took the blame Thursday for omitting the candidates for directorship of Consumers Public Power District from the ballots of two precincts.

H. F. Nacke, in a letter to the Nebraska Secretary of State's office, said after rechecking he found that "I alone am responsible for this error."

State officials said the two precincts could possibly make a difference in the outcome of the election, but the circumstances indicate they would not.

Atty. Gen. Clarence S. Beck said it is up to the candidates themselves to initiate action to rectify the error, as there is no course of action for any state or county agency to follow. Any candidate has the right to challenge the conduct of elections, he said.

Hearings Are Set On Discontinuing Stations

Two hearings were set for July 14 and 15 at Hyannis by the State Railway Commission on applications by the Burlington Railway to discontinue two stations.

The Burlington has asked to discontinue its stations at Ellsworth and Bingham. The Ellsworth hearing is July 14, the Bingham hearing is July 15. Both are at the court house at Hyannis.

$$$ Talks Begin Along Access Path

The State Highway Department is negotiating to buy a "limited" amount of property in the West Charleston area along the path of Lincoln's access route to the Interstate Highway, Acting State Engineer John Hossack said Thursday.

An appraisal of the property is now underway, Hossack said, explaining that the Department believes it necessary to buy the property at this time to protect it from being developed.

The engineer said the Department does not plan to enter into full-scale acquisition of right-of-way along the Lincoln access route until "early winter."

Hossack said planning for the route has not yet reached the detailed stage necessary to determine the exact location of right-of-way to be purchased.

The West Charleston location has been an undeveloped area, but the property owner was understood to be planning a subdivision and preparing to move 3 homes to the site.

Hard, Cold Reality

By WILLIAM O. DOBLER

When all is said and done, it is probably defeat which makes a man and victory which rewards him for what he is. Quite naturally, none of us has much of a liking for the building process in which we might suffer one setback after another but if we never experience this, then we are not likely ever to taste the sweetness of success.

Few, indeed, are the people who have gone through life with everything they tried turning out as planned.

No Easy Path Up

Some public officials run for office many times before they ever get elected. Some men try many jobs before they ever find one which really satisfies them. A salesman may lose 20 prospects before he clicks on one. A scientist may experience any number of flops before he comes up with a new conclusion. A youngster in school will get an 80 or 90 in his grades much more frequently than he will get 100. This just seems to be the pattern of life and you have to learn to live with it before you can find the contentment for which you search.

While the setbacks are never popular and the failures tend to temporarily discourage us, they are really the bread by which we live. They give you a healthy respect for the thoughts and efforts of others because they give you a realization of the difficulty found in traveling the road to achievement.

At the same time, it instills within you a strength of character and a sense of reality which will, perhaps, permit you to master the next task you undertake. If you start out a winner and never field a loser, then you are headed for trouble. Such an experience will catch up with you eventually and your fall will be all the harder when it comes.

The shattered summit meeting is something like this. No greater disillusionment has the world seen in years than that which pervades the thoughts of all men as they contemplate the shambles of the Paris meeting. President Eisenhower is probably finding it harder than anyone else to accept the present state of world affairs. Above everything else, he had his heart and mind set on the establishment of a firm foundation for peace before his second term of office had expired.

He abandoned or discarded the state of his health to embark upon a physically tough tour of key world points to light the spark of peace in the minds of national leaders. There were no immediate consequences of this in his physical condition but, unfortunately, the day of personal reckoning will probably come for him—the day when the entire nation will realize that a part of his life was sacrificed for something fine and wonderful in which he believed and in which he had high hopes and confidence.

But a ruthless world power—communism—has deprived him of the rewards of his sacrifice. Few of us will ever experience such a significant disappointment but even this one is not a total loss. It has shocked us back into reality—a reality which success at the summit might have hidden from our eyes. Nikita Khrushchev might have played his cards differently at the summit and achieved far more than he could have imagined.

He could have disposed of the U2 spy plane incident with whatever slight propaganda edge it might have given him and gone on to reach agreement with the West on certain fundamental principles of peace. This he could have done with full and complete knowledge of the fact that Russia intended to pursue the Communist course of world domination in any and every means that came to mind.

In short, we could have gotten a big dose of sleeping pills from the Red premier in Paris. And while we were sleeping and dreaming of the finer things in life, the Kremlin could have plotted our assassination without interruption. As anxious as we were for peace, it is highly likely that we might have been blinded to the facts of a really clever Soviet peace plot. Such a subterfuge could have had us fooled for a time, at least. And the rapidity of movement today in the field of science could make a six months lapse of effort on our part a real disaster.

Jolted Out Of Complacency

So, while we have lost the peace we had hoped might materialize in Paris, we have gained a clearer understanding of the menace we face in communism. It goes without saying that this will unify and strengthen the Western world in its determination to guarantee the rights and freedom of all men in the face of this challenge. The defeat of our hopes and objectives at Paris will be but a stimulant to our determination to achieve ultimate victory.

Spying Is An Old Russian Standby

PARIS—One difficulty of President Eisenhower in Paris was that he came to the so-called summit conference unprepared, and kept revising his proposals until the last minute. Nikita Khrushchev, on the other hand, had worked out his strategy before leaving Moscow and never deviated from it. He kept Eisenhower off balance.

For instance, the President came to Paris with a dossier of cases where the Soviets had been spying on the United States, but his staff debated a long time whether to release them.

Canadian spy ring — When the story of the spy ring operating from the Soviet embassy in Ottawa was revealed in this column in February 1946, it had almost exactly the same repercussions — in reverse—as the recent U-2 flight over Russia. I was deluged with critical mail claiming I was disrupting Soviet-American friendship which then, immediately after the war, was strong. However, the trials held subsequently in Canadian courts showed how extensive Soviet espionage was, and that it was responsible for stealing our atom-bomb secret. Dr. Allen Munn, a British scientist; Fred Rose, a member of the Canadian parliament, and a dozen others were convicted.

Incidentally, the United States showed its tolerance later by permitting Georgi Zourubin, Russian minister to Ottawa during the espionage crisis, to come to Washington as Russian ambassador.

Elizabeth Bentley — Another espionage case revealed in this column Sept. 7, 1947, was the theft of blueprints of the B-29, our most valuable wartime bomber which were delivered to Jacob Galos, top Soviet spy in the United States at the time, by his mistress, Elizabeth Bentley.

Judith Coplon—This pretty clerk in the U.S. Justice Department was another amateur who fell for Soviet love, not money, as so frequently happens. She became enamored of Valentin Gubitchev, Soviet attache at the United Nations in New York, and got caught giving U.S. secrets to her Russian lover.

Margarethe Pfeiffer — A big, blonde Czechoslovak girl graduated from a communist spy school in Thuringia where girls who have been arrested for prostitution can be trained as spies in lieu of a jail sentence. She tried to persuade Pvt. Robert Eicher of the U.S. Army to give her American tank secrets in return for her love. Instead, he tipped off the American army and she got four years in jail.

DORIS FLEESON

Khrushchev Welds American Unity

WASHINGTON — There is much more than meets the eye in the three carefully worded paragraphs that four principal Democratic spokesmen cabled President Eisenhower in Paris. All four can talk plainer than that.

They were actually saying to the President: "You can count on us, but you must keep trying."

They wanted also to enlist him in a warning to Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev that he cannot possibly expect a pliable president after the November elections next fall. This is apparent to Americans but seems unclear to Khrushchev, who has blandly suggested a new attempt at a summit meeting six or eight months from now.

Khrushchev has already made it absolutely impossible for the nominee of either party to take anything but a firm line toward the Kremlin. Any hint of his embrace would only drive both candidates into ever stronger and more inflexible positions from which retreat would be difficult.

☆ ☆ ☆

To the four co-signers of the Paris cable, this would be disastrous, yet they can see it happening out of the depths of Khrushchev's ignorance of the American electoral process. Speaker Sam Rayburn, Senate Majority Leader Lyndon Johnson, Adlai Stevenson and Chairman J. William Fulbright of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee had little difficulty, therefore, in agreeing upon their message.

President Eisenhower would be of enormous help if he accepts their view that this much ground should promptly be cleared in advance of the campaign. He himself is not involved, as he cannot be the candidate. And the hazard applies equally to Vice-President Richard Nixon, who seems so certain to be the Republican nominee, and to that man the Democrats will select at Los Angeles.

However angry he may be now at the President, Khrushchev will have time to plot a course designed to get the results he really wants after November. What is intended is that he shall understand that he has started after them in precisely the wrong way.

It is undeniable that Democrats have an almost neurotic fear that somehow, some way, the vice-president will manage to reframe the "soft on communism" issue against them next fall. They do not believe in the new Nixon surviving any hint of defeat. What they do hope to achieve is the realization that this time his own neck may be on the block, too.

They have not been reassured by Nixon's instant bursting into the headlines with a Russian spy story. Rep. Emmanuel Celler (D-NY) is picking that one up with a demand upon Attorney General William Rogers for a full report of the spy incident and this question: "Are the FBI files to be used by the vice-president in his campaign for the presidency?"

In their enouragement of Eisenhower, Democrats give tacit support to the contention that only the President can be really effective in foreign affairs. They do not want him to take his hand from the plow in spite of what happened at Paris.

Let The Priorities Be

The co-ordinating committee for the Main Stem Missouri River Reservior Operations has managed to provide a soft answer to both navigation and electric power adversaries. To the claims of each for what they consider their rightful share of the basin's benefits the committee answered that the continuing increase of stored water, electric power generation may be stepped up from its 1959 level of 3.8 billion kilowatt hours while at the same time providing for a longer season for navigation.

This was based on an increase in upper basin storage water to 30,700,000 acre feet and the prospect of an additional 21 million acre feet from run-off this season in the region above Sioux City.

One is pleased to learn of the progressing maturity of the great basin installation, and the increasing abundance of useful water beyond the current needs of the claimants, but it would be unwise to believe that the committee by its current ability to give benefits to both of the rival claimants has delivered anything like a lasting decision. It only deferred the battle.

It is significant that the mounting controversy over beneficial priorities of the basin development is arising largely at the sight of such quantity of new assets. When the great dams were still on paper and their benefits largely abstract the various potential beneficiaries found it not hard to get along.

In the light of that it is best to go back to 1953 when the Missouri Basin Survey Commission completed its exhaustive study and set thoughtful guidelines, both for the construction of the great facility and the apportionment of its benefits. This was a dispassionate study which set reasoned and reasonable priorities. The commission said the first priority was to be water supply for domestic and municipal use and pollution control. Second was to be irrigation, ground water recharge and industrial consumption, third, hydroelectric power, fourth fish, wildlife and recreation, and fifth, navigation.

There is no reason now why these priorities should be violated.

Democracy's Safeguard

Since human kind first started running in herds there has been precious little refuge for the man of reason and good will, although such compose by far the greater portion of the world population.

As one ponders the deep files of human history, dripping with blood and woe, one thing stands out. Most of history is the story of the doings of paranoid leadership, men with fabulous capacity for making humanity suffer in extremes, but with little if any for producing anything but capricious tyranny. Such rulers as have been men of good will lived quietly, and the only shining, hopeful contrast to history's vicious breed have been the few spiritual redeemers, mostly martyred, who live on and on in the hearts of so many. And it is to their teaching and example that humanity owes whatever improvement it has experienced.

But as for the Attilas, the Ghengis Kahns, the Alexanders the Great, Tamerlane and all the other memorably ruthless saddists, the question arises: How do such palpably dangerous misfits ascend to power? By what peculiar alchemy do such dreadful characters pass through the ranks of the prudent and the just to reach the command they are so wholly ill-fitted to exercise. The evidence seems to indicate that they largely succeed in societies where there is no freedom and no popular choice—an environment which favors the most ruthless and least ethical. It is significant that history does not record a notable instance of a true libertarian democracy cursing the world with evil leadership.

It must have been with great understanding that the history scholar president—Woodrow Wilson—in his time insisted that the establishment of democratic government was fundamental to the security of the world. It was a poignant error that his view did not prevail totally.

For Better Or Worse

Emphasis these days is on growth and hardly a single community in the land is not anxiously courting prospective new industries. Fancy brochures and fat budgets are the order of the day as cities seek to find economic stability and personal security through expansion of trade, commerce and production. But this doesn't mean that everybody favors the idea.

A Californian was recently heard to say that he really did not understand this ambition to expand. He frankly admitted that he liked his town the way it was. He had moved there to avoid the rush of the big city and all the inconvenience of a booming metropolis. Not only that, but as his town grew it seemed to develop more, not fewer, problems and appeared to have less money percentagewise to meet its needs.

This same thing is being experienced by one of the newest additions to our Union—Hawaii. Things are really booming in the South Pacific islands with 1960 construction forecast at $282.6 million, according to the Wall Street Journal. This would compare with $210 million in 1959 and only $97 million as recently as 1957. Such an increase might put a gleam in the eye of many people and a majority of the islanders are still pleased with it.

However, there are some residents of Hawaii who don't see things in the same way. The boom has affected their aesthetic tastes. It has turned areas of beauty and tranquility into blocks of solid concrete. It had disturbed their peace and quiet and adversely affected their pocketbooks. With the boom have come some inflation and a skyrocketing of land prices. Some fear that the commercialization of the islands will eventually destroy the fabulously rich tourist business and the balloon of prosperity will then pop.

All candidates should come equipped with the philosophy of "so-what" nonchalance that Jack Lough possesses. Or perhaps it was just that the Albion News editor was so busy on election night that he didn't have time to bother with his own political fortunes . . .

There were the hours of preparation beforehand, working out forms of tabulation, etc. And then there was the labor of recording and totaling results that took the staff well into the morning hours. Finally, type had to be set and proof read and rearranged . . .

Probably, we might surmise, because of the well known attitude of paying for a dead horse . . .

The farmer cut the tree down . . .

Chadron's upcoming Diamond Jubilee celebration has brought forth the usual variation of hirsute adornment on masculine lip and chin, a matter of great pride to the individual wearers, but something less to wives and sweethearts. One enterprising wife, Mrs. T. P. Mullins, has devised something which may be in great demand as face fuzz grows longer. The Chadron Record describes it as a "de-whisker mask." It consists of a piece of cardboard several inches square, out of which she cuts the outline of a pretty pair of lips.

Gwen Lindberg, of the Sargent Leader, was treated to the rare occasion of breakfast in bed on Mother's Day . . .

Her brood filed in one at a time, each with his or her own offering to the queen-mother . . . cereals, orange juice, soggy toast, an apple. When the menu shifted to peanut-butter sandwiches and stale pop, she decided it was time to get up.

The Morrill Mail Montgomerys had a rousing week-end with all five of their grandchildren home for the first time. The proud grandparents consider all five of them tops, strictly blue-ribbon material, and don't mind saying so.

A few other doting grandparents about town have grumbled good-naturedly, maintaining that their own are of equal caliber, but "we don't have a newspaper to tell about it."

Education

Muskogee, Okla.

The economists say that as life becomes more and more complicated, a college education becomes more and more necessary for the economic and social success of a family. The educators say that Russia is outstripping us in the educational field. Yet many politicians are claiming that we cannot afford to enlarge our educational system sufficiently to educate all those who not only desire an education but are willing to pay for it.

For some reason these same politicians want the government to finance the education of a favored few who will not even take an oath that they are not Communists and will not try to destroy our government. They claim an oath does not mean anything to a Communist. That may be true, but the penitentiary sentence for the violation of an oath means something to them. Congress could make the penalty very severe.

We have been pouring billions of dollars into the underdeveloped countries to keep them from becoming communistic. Aren't these countries underdeveloped because the inhabitants are mentally underdeveloped? And for several years the same group which claims we cannot afford to educate all of our children has been trying to change our immigration laws to permit a deluge of emigrants from the countries with the inhabitants of low IQs.

Musical Treat

Ceresco, Neb.

The music department of the University of Nebraska presented to the people of Lincoln and the surrounding area a great musical treat in the rendition of Verdi's "Requiem," a masterpiece of the highest order of music.

From the standpoint of the entire group — the chorus of 600 voices, the University Symphony and soloists of operatic talent — the performance was wonderful under the dynamic direction of one Emanuel Wishnow.

And I wish to say that the performance of such thunderous beauty and characteristics which belong solely to the works of Verdi gave me the same great thrill as when I heard the fine Chicago Symphony this past summer.

I want to express my appreciation to the music department of the university for this performance, and for selecting the "Requiem."

Reunion

Dayton, Ohio

The 83rd Infantry Division—the famed Thunderbolt Division of World War II — is conducting an extensive search for some 30,000 of their former members. That was the number of men on their roster at the end of the war. These men are scattered all over the nation. Many are from the state of Nebraska.

Every year the 83rd holds a reunion. This year the 14th annual reunion will be held in Boston, Mass., August 18, 19, and 20 at the Hotel Statler.

All former members of the old 83rd are urged to contact our national secretary, Harry Lockwood, 43 Oakland Ave., Jersey City, N.J.

Helping Hand

Lincoln, Neb.

Last Saturday, May 14, some 12 to 15 $10,000 garbage trucks, getting some three or four miles per gallon of gasoline, came into the area of Q to Vine, 19th to 23rd and without cost gave not only their equipment and three hours of time but actual energy as they helped clear yards and alley ways.

This was the result of the efforts of the Sanitation Division of the City-County Health Department and the Garbage Collectors' Association to help this area.

There are many in this area who take pride in their property, the appearance of the yard, grass, waste containers, homes and the complete exterior of their places and are deeply appreciative of this source which aids in keeping our neighborhood neat. We want to thank the men who worked so hard in helping in our neighborhood.

May we thank Mr. John Carter and the members of the Lincoln Garbage Collector's Association for their very fine service rendered to our community.

Safety Efforts

I wish to commend the city engineer for his splendid response to the storm sewer situation and his efforts to correct the hazardous openings.

Our little daughter fell into one of these sewer openings about 10 years ago. At that time the Lincoln-Lancaster Safety Council and numerous people tried to get the city engineer interested enough to place protection across the openings, but I am sorry to say without too much success. It is too bad than we wait until a life is lost before correcting a hazardous opening.

After seeing the many hours of work that Mr. Mullins of the Lincoln-Lancaster Safety Council gives to these projects, I feel that not enough credit is given for his efforts. In the future, let's remember the council in some of our contributions.

New Spaceship Lengthens Path

Washington (AP) — Russia's new spaceship has apparently been kicked into a 100-mile higher orbit around the earth. Scientists speculated this meant the ship had ejected the cabin containing a dummy astronaut.

American and British scientists, who have been tracking the ship since it was launched last Sunday morning, reported Thursday its time for circling the earth had suddenly changed from a little more than 91 minutes to about 94 minutes.

This would mean, according to a calculation of one American scientist, that the spacecraft had changed from an orbital height of about 200 miles above the earth to nearly 300.

The most likely explanation, American experts said, is that the ship — originally weighing 4½ tons—was lifted higher after ejecting the 2½ ton pressurized cabin it reportedly carried.

They said the sudden lightening of weight would not of itself cause a change to a higher orbit.

Rather, they speculated that the change was due to the rocket conceivably used to eject the capsule.

One view was that a rocket on the capsule ejected it backward from the spaceship — and that the recoil speeded up the spaceship, causing it to go into a higher orbit.

A second view was that an ejection rocket attached to the spaceship shoved the ship ahead and into a higher orbit.

Senator Says Soviet 'Ship' Carrying Man

Washington (UPI) — Sen. Henry M. Jackson (D-Wash) said Thursday he had been reliably informed that the Soviet "spaceship" launched on the eve of the summit conference and now circling the earth may carry a human astronaut.

Jackson, a member of the Senate Armed Services Committee and one of its best informed members on missiles and space, told the Senate there is "growing reason to suspect that a man may be sitting in the Soviet spaceship" despite Russian disclaimers.

"The Soviets may very shortly attempt to return this man—alive—to earth," he told his senate colleagues.

"Nothing is certain until it happens," he said, "but the evidence is good. I'll stand on my statement."

WHY THE 'X'? QUESTION TO LEGISLATURE

Why should you have to mark an "X" in the box on the name of a write-in candidate?

This question will go before the Nebraska Legislature again during the 1961 session, Charles Thone, State Republican Chairman, said Thursday.

Thone said write-in candidates of both parties lost many votes in the primary because voters failed to mark the boxes opposite the names of candidates in the write-in spaces.

He called the "X" or other mark on a write-in a "technicality" and said the act of writing in the name should be proof enough of a voter's intention. The party will try to get the Legislature to drop the requirement.

Morrison Asks Campaign Expense Limit

By Betty Person

Frank B. Morrison, Democratic candidate for governor, Thursday proposed a "new, fresh and fair" approach to gubernatorial campaigning and asked his Republican opponent, John Cooper, to give his consideration and approval to the proposal.

Morrison noted that Cooper had "objected to large sums of money being spent to promote political candidates in the primar" and declared "it is obvious that no public office should be put on the auction block and sold t the highest bidder."

"It is important that pressure groups not finance a political campaign," said Morrison.

"Intelligent, sincere discussion of issues must supplant propoganda techniques," he added.

4 Points

Outlining a 4-point program which he said would "eliminate suspicion of the winner being controlled and financed by any pressure group," Morrison said it would "bring about a new era in Nebraska campaigning if Cooper would join with me immediately, inaugurating these ground rules:

1. Each candidate would direct his supporters to send all contributions to their respective single campaign treasuries. The candidate would personally police all fund-raising activities and expenditures and agree to make public such details on the first, and not later than the 5th of each month, for June, July and August.

That not more than $10,000 in total be accepted or expended in behalf of either candidate during the entire campaign for all literature, advertisements, postage, paid workers, billboards, radio and television time, and that the candidates could personally pay the necessary expenses for his personal traveling, lodging and meals during the campaign.

TV Debates

2. The two candidates (should) jointly agree that in addition to the $10,000 as outlined, they (should) jointly encourage the financing of a series of live television debates between the two candidates on all Nebraska Television channels.

Funds for the telecasts should be raised in the individual communities from people interested in "an informed electorate," Morrison suggested.

3. That the election laws of the State of Nebraska be freely and openly complied with in all aspects, with special emphasis on the proper revelation of sources of revenue.

4. That both candidates pledge themselves and their organizations to a campaign based on a discussion of issues and qualifications only.

Queried about Morrison's proposal, Cooper said Thursday night that he "agrees with the philosophy" but finds it "hard for me to believe the sincerity" of Morrison's suggestion.

Cooper said had Morrison been sincere about the issuance of his program, "he would have contacted me personally. I am available anytime."

Cooper termed the idea of the plan "wonderful," and added, "but we can't be naive about this."

Mangiamelli Lists Boots In Expenses

Tony Mangiamelli, Omaha contractor who was an unsuccesful candidate for the Democratic nomination for governor, provided a graphic description of his campaign expenses to the Secretary of State's office Thursday.

Mangiamelli, who donned cowboy boots as he conducted a door-to-door campaign around the state, listed campaign expenses of $587—$80 for printing cards, and $507 for "car expenses, gas, oil and tires, boots and food," he said.

Other campaign expense statements included:

Congress: Second District: Joseph V. Benesch of Omaha, Democrat, $217; Fourth District: Andrew K. Parkansky of Scottsbluff, Republican, $1,052.

Lieutenant Governor: Lester H. Anderson of Lincoln, Republican, $407.

Marvel of Hastings, $30; 36th District: Albert A. Kjar of Lexington, $27, and 43rd District: A. A. Fenske of Sunol, $215.

Two County Democratic Delegate Posts Still Undecided

A flip of the coin will determine the Democratic delegates in two Lancaster County precincts.

Election Commissioner Fred Cassidy announced the complete vote count for county delegates Thursday.

There were delegate contests in 25 of the 140 precincts and no delegates filed in 26.

Delegate ties resulted in 11A-1 where Richard C. Otto and David J. Thomas knotted at 25 votes each. In 12-E, Alyce O. Studnicka tied with D. T. Parrott with a single mail vote throwing the contest into a deadlock.

Two delegates are elected from each precinct on the basis of the highest vote.

Plan Slated To Discover Gas Leaking

A plan aimed at finding the source of gasoline in water wells near Scottsbluff will get under way Monday on the anticipation of federal water pollution abatement funds to share the costs, a Nebraska Health Department spokesman said Thursday.

An official from the Kansas City regional office of the U.S. Public Health Service was in Lincoln studying the results of previous tests around the Swift & Co. packing plant near Scottsbluff.

About 2,000 gallons of pure bronze have been pumped from a Swift well since February.

Float It

The new plan is to charge the earth with groundwater west of the plant, and at the same time drill a large well northeast of the area to pump it out. It is hoped this will "float" the gasoline out from under the plant and away from the Gering water wells, which it was feared may also become contaminated.

The flow of the water—and gasoline—is to be measured from two concentric rings of some 15 to 18 test holes around the area.

T. A. Filipi, state sanitary engineer, is expected back from his vacation Friday to take charge of the operation. The field force, already making preliminary surveys, is in charge of Vincent Dreeszen, assistant director of the survey and conservation division of the University of Nebraska.

Traffic Control Head Walker To Resign June 15

The Police Department's traffic control officer, Lt. Arthur Walker, will resign June 15 to enter the insurance business.

Police Chief Joseph Carroll, in announcing Walker's resignation, said Walker cited higher pay and better opportunity for advancement as reasons for leaving the department, where he now receives $427 a month.

Walker, 36, joined the department in 1950. He is a graduate of a 3-week course on traffic control at Northwestern University.

Carroll said Patrolman Al Krause, who is completing his college work, and jailer Rick Ottjes, who is retiring, also are leaving the department.

Maximum Security

Mexico City (AP) — Maximum security measures are planned to protect Cuba's President Osvaldo Dorticos on his official 5-day visit to Mexico starting June 9.

Fremont Trucking Firm Under Fire

Norfolk (AP) — A Fremont trucking firm, known as the Joe Roy Freight Lines, came under repeated fire from witnesses in a hearing before a Legislative Council committee studying the work of the State Railway Commission.

Much of the testimony alleged that the Fremont firm was lax in settling claims, had many lost shipments and many delays in delivery.

Sen. Jack Romans of Ord, a trucker himself, contended the Railway Commission had permitted the Fremont firm to operate for a time without proper bond.

Sen. Ray Simmons of Fremont asserted the commission had acted in an illegal manner in permitting the firm to take freight in and out of areas which the operating permit did not cover. This, said Simmons, was during a period a secondary boycott was operating while a strike was on in Omaha.

Wayne Swanson, commission member, in explaining the powers of the commission, said it can only suspend permits on a show cause order and then it must be proved there was willful failure to perform.

Needs A Lesson

Baltimore (AP) — At a barber shop, a woman met a supply salesman so she could buy a straight razor for one of her friends. After the purchase, she asked the salesman in all sincerity: "Where do you get the blades for it?"

Schmit Will Seek Committee Post

North Platte (AP) — About 300 are expected to attend the convention of Nebraska Young Republicans here Friday and Saturday.

Loran Schmit of David City, former state chairman of the group, announced he will be a candidate for Young Republican representative to the GOP State Central Committee.

Schmit resigned as state chairman to make an unsuccessful bid for the Republican nomination for Congress from the Third District.

On a joint ticket, George Wilcox of Lincoln will be a candidate for state chairman and Mrs. Melba Scott of Lincoln will be a candidate for co-chairman.

Robert Gray, formerly of Hastings and now secretary to the President's Cabinet, will speak at a banquet Saturday night.

Everywhere 'That' Bobby Snider Goes, Bun-Bun Bunny Is Sure To Go

By Roger Wait

Almost everywhere that Bobby goes, "Bun-Bun" goes, too. Except to bed and school.

Seven-year-old Bobby Snider's pet albino rabbit did go to school with him once, though.

Bun-Bun, who likes people as much as people like it, was the center of attraction all day long in the first grade at Irving Child Center, where Bobby goes to school.

About 12 inches long now, Bun-Bun was only half that size when it became the Easter bunny for Bobby, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Snider of 1815 Van Dorn.

A Joke

The Friday before Palm Sunday, Snider, a University of Nebraska associate professor of music, was given the pure white rabbit as a joke by 3 of his students.

He took it home and, Mrs. Snider said, the whole family "fell in love with it."

Bun-Bun's nose and eyes are pink, but its paws are somewhat gray from creeping around on the ground. Usually, however, the friendly rabbit rides around in Bobby's arms.

It's a smart little "girl rabbit," says Bobby, who's proud as Punch about some of Bun-Bun's tricks.

She sits up on her haunches to beg for food. Like most rabbits, she likes lettuce and carrots.

Seven-year-old Bobby Snider and "Bun-Bun".

Rhubarb

Her favorite delicacy is rhubarb seeds and flowers, especially pansies, when she gets to them. That is seldom, however, for when Bun-Bun is not in Bobby's arms or those of someone else, she's in her back yard cage made out of window screens.

Rabbits are known for their natural jumping prowess.

"One time, it seems, Bun tried hers out on a net at a south Lincoln trampoline establishment. She got down in the shallow pit under a net, however.

"I got down there and pulled her out," Bobby said.

He had a dog once, he said, but "I like Bun-Bun better."

Red Espionage 'Box Score' Announced

Washington (UPI) — A Congressman gave the House a detailed "box score" Thursday on Soviet espionage which he said showed that nearly 100 red agents have been caught spying on the United States and its Allies since World War II.

Rep. Cornelius E. Gallagher (D-NJ), a member of the House Foreign Affairs Committee, said the recent U2 spy plane episode was "Child's play" compared to the widespread espionage activities of the Russians.

Gallagher said the number of Communist spies arrested in the free world are only a fraction of those operating on Russia's behalf. He said Western intelligence sources estimate that Russia at this moment has at least 17,000 spies active in free West Germany alone.

Many Others

The Congressman also said in a speech inserted in the congressional record that his figures on the number arrested, prosecuted or deported "does not include others whose capture may not have been revealed nor does it include the nearly 15,000 persons arrested since World War II for spying in West Germany."

Furthermore, Gallagher said the Communists have kidnaped 255 persons from West Germany "for intelligence and other purposes." In addition, 23 of the nearly 100 spies arrested in Allied countries other than West Germany have been members of the Communist diplomatic corps, he said.

His report was designed to rebut Soviet outcries over the U2 spy plane mission which Russian Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev cited to demolish the summit conference with President Eisenhower in Paris this week.

Name Spies

Sen. Bourke B. Hickenlooper (R-Iowa) told the Senate it was "high time" the United States "laid down a list of dates and names" on Russians caught spying in this country.

He said such a dossier would show that no other country has been engaged in "such vast espionage" as Russia. The Russians have been spying "brazenly and we know it," Hickenlooper said.

APRIL STATE COSTS DOWN

April state government costs were $9,338,471, down slightly from the $9,855,949 spent in March, the state tax commissioner's office reported Thursday.

General fund expenditures were $3,449,058 bringing the total spent this biennium to $30,392,421 from the general fund.

Cash fund expenditures totaled $2,681,515 bringing the biennium total to $31,361,319.

Spent from federal funds was $2,392,005 hiking the total this biennium to $42,973,631.

Another $73,055 was spent from the building fund levy and $742,836 from the special fund levy increasing the biennium total to $1,194,310 and $7,953,944 respectively.

Total expenditures from all funds so far this biennium is $113,875,628.

Woman Injured By Lion Skin Rug

Edinburgh, Scotland (AP)—A middle-aged Frenchwoman complained in court she was ambushed and severely injured by a lion skin rug.

It was lurking, said Mrs. Rolande Neff, on the floor of the Golden Lion hotel.

While staying there one day in July 1957, she walked into the manager's office and tripped headlong over the rug's projecting lion head. In the fall Mrs. Neff suffered a fractured shoulder which doctors said would never be the same again, she contended in demanding $5,600 damages from the hotel owners.

North Side Adventists Tell Plans

. . . For Building

Plans for the construction of a church building to replace the house the congregation uses have been initiated by the North Side Adventist Church, 73rd and Lexington.

According to S. T. Shafer, church official, the 6-room house used since last August has reached its capacity.

Members have also signed commitment cards, renewing their policy of abstention from the use of alcholic beverages and tobacco, Shafer reported.

Tools Taken

Milton Hagelberger of 1739 Sunnyhill Rd., told police Thursday $156 worth of his auto parts and tools were stolen from a garage at 1122 D which he uses as a workshop.

Stronger Defense Urged By White Because Of K.'s Irrational Behavior

Washington (AP) -- The chief of the U.S. Air Force said Thursday irrational behavior displayed at the Paris Summit conference might make it wise to strengthen this nation's defenses.

"I have seen indications recently," Gen. Thomas D. White told a Senate appropriations subcommittee, "that irrationally could enter into a certain nation's decision to launch an attack."

White's comment came in reply to questions about Soviet Premier Khrushchev and the breakup of the Paris Summit conference. Sens. Leverett Saltonstall (R-Mass) and Dennis Chavez (D-NM) had asked if the Paris developments required a change in U.S. defense plans and appropriations.

White said that earlier this year he had been convinced U.S. defenses were so strong that "no rational decision could be made to attack us."

Any attacking nation would face destruction from this country's deterrent powers, he said. Then he added:

"What would be a deterrent to a rational point of view might not be a deterrent to an irrational point of view."

White did not pinpoint his remarks further, and when a reporter asked him afterward if he was referring to Khrushchev as irrational he smiled and said:

"You will have to draw your own conclusions."

Under questioning by Sen. Chavez, White said that probably the easiest way to step up U.S. defenses quickly would be to add two more squadrons of Atlas intercontiental missiles.

He said two more squadrons, of 12 missiles each, probably could be added within the next 3 years at a cost of 350 million dollars.

Present plans call for 13 squadrons of the ocean-spanning nuclear missile by 1963. Originally the squadrons were to be equipped with 9 missiles and one spare each, but recently some squadrons have been increased to 12 missiles.

White joined Secretary of the Army Wilber M. Brucker in advocating multi-million dollar additions to the Eisenhower administration's 39 billion dollar defense budget for the 12 months starting July 1.

Building Fees Should Go To County Fund

Fees from building and use permits under county zoning regulations may be used for purposes other than the administration of the zoning regulations, the Nebraska attorney general's office said Thursday.

Cecil S. Brubaker, assistant attorney general, said such fees should be returned to the county general fund and may be spent as are other fees collected by the county.

The opinion was written on a question by Dixon G. Adams of Papillion, attorney for Sarpy County.

Alan Freed Is Arrested

. . . With 4 Other DJs

New York (AP) — Alan Freed, one-time Pied Piper of rock 'n' roll, was arrested with 4 other disc jockeys Thursday. They were accused of lining their pockets with payola to plug certain records on their broadcasts.

Alan Freed

Dist. Atty. Frank S. Hogan said their take — and that of 3 radio station employes also named in the case — ran as high as $36,000 during the two-year period 1958-59. He put Freed's at $30,650.

Hogan claimed the old system of song plugging based on friendly contacts had given way in broadcasting to cash-on-the-line bribery for the pushing of favored records.

Freed was one of the first disc jockeys to adopt rock 'n'roll. He build up a tremendous following of teen agers who stormed theaters whenever he put on a stage show outside his studios. He has denied repeatedly that he ever took payola, although the charge has cost him a number of high-salaried jobs.

Others Arrested

Besides Freed, those arrested were:

Disc jockey Peter Tripp, 33, of New York's WMGM, accused on 39 counts of taking $36,050 from 8 record companies in the two year 1958-59 period. He once stayed awake 200 hours in a Times Square broadcasting booth as a stunt.

Disc jockey Tommy Smalls, 34, of New York's WWRL, 48 counts, $13,385 from 18 companies. He was immediately discharged by the station.

Disc jockey Hal Jackson, 45, of New York's WLIB, 39 counts, $9,850 from 9 companies.

Disc jockey Jack Walker, 39, formerly of WOV and now of WLIB, 33 counts, $7,420 from 10 companies.

Mel Leeds, now of Los Angeles station KDAY, 40 counts, accused of taking $9,675 from 5 companies when he was program director of New York's WINS, where Freed won fame.

Joseph Saccone, 25, former record librarian of WMGM, 7 counts, $36,000 from one company.

Crisis For Mr. K. Seen

. . . Inside Kremlin

Paris (AP) — Western statesmen quit the scene of the fantastic summit parley Thursday, virtually convinced that a crisis in the Kremlin forced Nikita S. Khrushchev to blow up the talks.

First assessment of their experts suggested further that the Soviet premier's performance in Paris was dictated by a fight for political survival.

The governments led by Presidents Eisenhower and de Gaulle and Prime Minister Macmillan also seemed to share the view that Soviet leaders have not yet decided irrevocably whether to bury or keep alive the policy of relaxing east-west tensions.

Family Features

DEAR ABBY
Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: Irma is my second wife. I was a widower for 14 years and should have left well enough alone. We've been wed for two years and all I hear out of her is, "Henry, put your hat on!"

I was bald when she married me and after all, Abby, I am 73 years of age. Did she expect me to start growing hair at my age? She never complained about my bald head when I courted her. Now, we can be sitting at the home of friends and she will run and get my hat. Everyone laughs, and she does, too, but she sees to it that I keep my hat on. I am getting tired of this treatment. If I am not too old for advice, please send some my way.

BALD AND NOT ASHAMED OF IT

DEAR BALD: Take your hat off, Henry. And keep it off—unless you are out of doors. And tell Irma to cut out the foolishness.

☆ ☆ ☆

DEAR ABBY: My husband and I live in a housing development, so you know how close neighbors are. One evening last fall my husband had to work late and I was sitting out in the yard enjoying the peace and quiet. One of the neighbors, whose wife was out of town, came to the edge of my yard and asked me if I cared to join him in a game of chess. We sat on my porch until dark playing chess, and then we just talked. We didn't put the porch light on as it would have attracted bugs. He stayed until my husband came home at 10 p.m. Months later I hear that the neighbors are still talking about it. Did I commit any sort of crime?

FRIENDLY NEIGHBOR

DEAR FRIENDLY: You committed no "crime" but you were indiscreet. Better to have attracted a few bugs than all that attention.

☆ ☆ ☆

CONFIDENTIAL TO "WORSHIPPED HIM": Now that you are wiser, ask him to park his clay feet under somebody else's sofa every night.

If you have a problem, write to Abigail Van Buren in care of this paper. She will be glad to answer your letter. For a personal reply, enclose a self-addressed envelope.

ASK—
Dorothy Draper

If you can't find the coffee table to suit your particular needs today you just aren't looking! There are more shapes and sizes on the market than ever before since people began referring to any table in front of a sofa as a "coffee" table.

There's the long solid bench type, the slatted bench model, the small square top with the pedestal base type that you can use as a trio or separate to solo at your convenience. Then there's the kind that you can raise to dining table height, the large low round table that hints of the Orient. Also the piggy-back type where you can pull out two or three tables from under the big table. Some coffee tables come with pillows which make an extra seat when chairs become scarce. Or you can put pillows on your bench coffee table, if you can find another place for ash trays, etc.

When picking your next coffee table don't just choose one with the "eeny-meeny-miney-moe" technique, find the one that best answers the needs of your particular family. It's there, if you look!

Mrs. K. M. G. asks:

I have a problem — a pink and white one — my kitchen. It has just been painted. The ceiling and one wall white, the other three walls a nice soft pink. The dinette is part of the kitchen with a half wall divider, and three walls of the dinette are covered in brick wall paper, white bricks, gray cement. I plan to put new tile on the floor, but what color or colors? The sink and small attached wall table in the kitchen are gray. I have a white wrought iron table and chairs in the dinette. I feel that the tile should be broken rather than one color. How would black and white checker board be? What kind of curtains would be best? The sink, cabinets, refrigerator are all white.

Dear Mrs. K. M. G.:

Your idea of having the black and white checker board floor sounds most attractive. How about soft pink cafe curtains to match your three walls? Add two rows of black rick-rack braid to make the black checker board floor feel in good company.

Mrs. W. P. asks:

"I want a bathroom in black and gold. Would there be any floor covering to go with this idea?"

Dear Mrs. W. P.:

There's a vinyl called "Golden Night" that is black shot with golden-flecked nuggets. Sounds made-to-order, doesn't it?

BRIDGE
By B. Jay Becker

You are South, both sides vulnerable. The bidding has been:

1♥ 2♦ 2♥ ?

What would you now bid with each of the following five hands?

1. ♠Q743 ♥Q6 ♦7 ♣K97532
2. ♠AJ98 ♥5 ♦A953 ♣Q842
3. ♠QJ6 ♥QJ95 ♦A72 ♣A98
4. ♠KQJ982 ♥A963 ♦K7 ♣4
5. ♠K987 ♥J2 ♦Q6 ♣KJ743

1. Pass. Before discussing the action to be taken in the bidding sequence given, it may be best to define the meaning of the two diamond bid.

An overcall in the two level shows a hand of probably opening bid proportions, but, more than anything else, there is associated with it the factor of safety. The overcaller pays less heed to the number of high card points he has than he does to the number of tricks he expects to take in case his bid gets doubled by the next player.

A three club bid would not be right. We already know we don't fit diamonds, and it would only be tempting fate to try to find out whether partner fits clubs. Without a suit fit, and so little in high cards, silence is the order of the day.

2. Four diamonds. Game is a distinct possibility and partner should be so informed. If we had an ace less, we would bid three diamonds, not for game but for part-score purposes. North is invited to go on over four diamonds, but he may, of course, pass.

3. Three notrump. To bid less would show disrespect for partner's overcall. With probably six diamond tricks and the ace of clubs as a starter, it should not prove difficult to make three notrump. A two notrump bid would invite game, but would indicate less values than we have.

4. Four spades. Here, also, a game contract is indicated. A three spade bid, which might or might not be treated as forcing, would be begging the question. It is quite likely that partner has some spade support because he is already marked to be short in hearts. Hearts have been bid to the left and right, and the four hearts in our hand indicate that partner probably has a singleton. Hence, spade support is inferred.

5. Three diamonds. Obviously, we have to enter the fray to back up partner's overcall, and the only question is what to bid. As indicated before, partner shows a good suit by bidding diamonds, otherwise his overcall would not be safe. The Q-6 therefore comprise support, even though it is ordinarily not good practice to raise partner with two trumps. To mention the spades or clubs would be a shot in the dark.

Stanton Delaplane's POSTCARD

Like Art and Culture, the lively spiritual side of California has been watered down by the cascade of new people pouring into the Golden State.

The original settlers of the boom-time Eighties brought the old-time religion with them.

This was not (as it is today) the land of electronics, missiles and golden real estate. It was the State to retire in. And once retired, to find the State of Grace.

Along with the retired population came an adequate number of preachers, evangelists and assorted sky pilots of splinter groups.

☆ ☆ ☆

Our most famous Lady of the Light was the late Aimee Semple McPherson. She had been converted by a young Holy Roller pastor. And her Angelus Temple of the Four-Square Gospel always had a flavor of this brisk background.

Sister Aimee's Temple in Los Angeles grew on a slather of voluntary gifts from a wholly satisfied congregation.

It was no dry service.

When the Gospel Lighthouse sang, "Throw Out the Lifeline," the ladies of the choir were dressed like American sailors. (The Navy protested in a court action. But they lost.)

Sister Aimee in an Admiral's uniform directed the rescue — the Navy-clad choir and a life-saving crew of young men tossed an actual line. And all were saved from the stormy seas of sin to the shores of salvation.

There was a brief interlude in 1926 when Sister disappeared in a green bathing suit into the Pacific and turned up in Agua Prieta, Mexico.

She had been kidnaped, she said, by a trio of fiends named Steve and Jake and Mexicali Rose.

It was a story that called for all the faith of the faithful —(though Sister had been held prisoner and walked across the Sonora desert, her shoes and clothing were not scratched at all. That was the miracle!)

There were some talk that Sister had taken sabbatical leave with a young radio announcer from the Temple. In Carmel, California, you can find plenty of people who saw the green bathing suit hanging on the line—a taxi driver will show you the house.

But nobody could prove it. And Sister put on one of the greatest shows of all time at the Temple: "The Devil's Convention.

The choir this time was dressed with horns, tails and pitchforks. They were introduced as Sister's detractors —the reporters, the Grand Jury, and the politicians.

They were defeated by a flock of winged angels. Hallelujah!

☆ ☆ ☆

The off-beat religions of today's California are pale beside those angelic days.

We have a few robed and sandaled desert preachers. And a few years ago, Nature Boy wandered up and down Hollywood boulevard. There are a handful of aging followers of the fiery Annie Besant.

But most of the cults that sought so vitally have gone under—one of them literally when the State built a dam in front of the holy city.

The spiritual guidance has been surrendered to more orthodox leaders, more sedate temples.

They are not nearly as crowded.

Teacher Fired For Calling K. 'Greatest Man In World'

San Antonio, Tex. (AP) — A young teacher lost his job here. He was quoted as telling his high school class Nikita Khrushchev is the greatest man in the world and spy plane pilot Francis Powers should be executed.

The teacher, Winston McDaniel, defended the statements as a means of sparking discussion and said they were quoted out of context.

He was suspended for the balance of the school year after the school board listened to a tape recording of the classroom session. Newsmen were not permitted to hear the recording.

Greatest Man

San Antonio news columnist Paul Thompson reported the tape contained statements by McDaniel that the United States is lucky "the greatest man alive today" is in charge of Russia and that American military leaders desire war more than the Russians.

"Some of my remarks were my opinions and some were not," the 32-year-old teacher said. "I believe in making statements that are not my point of view but will get student response, and I got excellent response — too much, in fact."

He said he described Soviet Premier Khrushchev as "the greatest man in the world in terms of political leaders," basing the appraisal on "a recent poll, taken, I believe, among diplomats."

"He's certainly the leading politician anyway," the teacher said.

Reasonable

McDaniel said he told students the United States is lucky Khrushchev controls Russia rather than the late Joseph Stalin because he considers Khrushchev "a more reasonable man to deal with."

The remark about Powers came, he said, after a student asked what the Russians will do with the American civilian captured after his U-2 observation plane was downed in Russia.

"I said that, in the Russian view, he would have to be put to death," McDaniel said.

His own opinion, he said, is that the United States should swap a captured Russian spy for Powers.

Appeal For Swimming Pool Made

. . . At Ballard Field

Two organizations have appealed on behalf of Havelock residents for a new neighborhood swimming pool at Ballard Field.

The letter to Mayor Pat Boyles was signed by M. M. Carlton Jr., president of Havelock Businessmen Association, and Mrs. Betty Jean Peter, chairman of Citizens of Havelock Area.

"This portion of the city is the leading industrial area," the letter stated. "Please help us obtain more swimming facilities for our residents at your next budget hearing."

2,000 Signers

It recalled petitions with 2,000 signatures for a new pool was presented in March, 1959, to the City Council.

The Havelock area, which was designated for a new swimming pool in the defeated $3.25 million park improvement bond issue, voted 2 to 1 against the proposition in the May 10 election. The 1,112 to 598 vote failed to equal the total signatures on the petition.

Mayor Boyles released the letter without comment.

Kansas Again Big 8 Choice

. . . 10 RECORD HOLDERS BACK

Lincoln Star Special

Ames, Ia.—Big 8 track and field candidates launch efforts for 1960 degrees here Friday afternoon at Clyde Williams Field, but—as usual—Kansas is expected to graduate at the head of the class when commencement time rolls around Saturday afternoon.

Kansas has won the outdoor title 8 consecutive years and is a favorite to cop No. 9 this weekend.

Top threat to KU is Oklahoma, which finally unseated the Jayhawks in the conference indoor last winter, but the Sooners will need good fortune in order to stage a double celebration.

While the Iowa State track has been well-groomed for the colorful cinder classic, it can hardly be expected to produce such an array of records as the OU oval turned out last spring in Norman.

All told 10 records were broken and one was tied in 1959, a mark not expected to be equaled here even though 6 of the record-breakers are back.

Mullins Defends

Three other winners return for another fling. Record breakers on hand include Charlie Tidwell of Kansas (100 yard dash and 220 low hurdles), Joe Mullins of Nebraska (880), Gail Hodgson of Oklahoma (mile), Miles Eisenman of Oklahoma State (2-mile) and Bill Alley of Kansas (javelin.)

Other returning winners are Dick Cochran of Missouri (discus), Mike Lindsay of Oklahoma (shot put) and Sam Pegues of Oklahoma State (high jump.)

While Jim Graham of Oklahoma State, who last spring set a pole vault record of 15-3¼, has graduated, the vault mark is in even more jeopardy than it was at Norman.

Martin Threat

Oklahoma's J. D. Martin already has established a collegiate record of 15-9¾ this spring, and Aubrey Dooley of Oklahoma State has a 15-2¼ to his 1960 credit.

Nebraska isn't expected to make the first division and the Huskers will have to come on fast to improve on their 7th place finish last year.

Coach Frank Sevigne brought 16 Huskers,

Kearney Shows Power To NCC

. . . 2 'LOPERS EYE RECORDS

By Paul LeBar

Foster Field, Kearney—Kearney's devastating power will be in evidence early when the 15th annual Nebraska College Conference track and field trials commence this afternoon.

Antelopes on the prowl in quest of new records are shotputter Jim Jacobs and javelin flinger Chuck Bolton.

Jacobs, Minden senior, leads a field of 3 capable of getting beyond the 50-foot mark with the 16-pound ball.

Others in the select company are Kearney junior Francis Hircock and Hastings senior Dave Williams.

Bolton, Elsie senior, could unleash the mightiest toss with the javelin ever recorded in the conference.

The record is 182 feet 7½ inches, and Bolton was within two feet of that mark last spring.

He's flirted with the 200-foot lure on two occasions this campaign, once coming off with a measurement of 195-2¼.

Two other field event finals and two relay races fill in time among dash and hurdle prelims this afternoon.

Who'll Take 2nd

Jockeying for positions has long since been tossed off as a scramble for the next-best finish to Coach Charles Foster's host Kearneyites.

Antelope depth, even without dash qualifiers, is conceded to be sufficient in the distances to win going away.

Nebraska Wesleyan rates second on the guessing chart. Hastings, Doane, Chadron, Wayne, Peru, Midland, Dana and Concordia are probables in that order.

Records Safe

Only minor interest is affixed to competition in the high jump and broad jump, where new standards are less likely.

Midland junior Larry Collier rates an outside chance at the 6-foot 3½-inch high jump mark on the basis of an earlier 6-3% performance this spring.

Cerv Traded Back To NY

. . . A'S RECEIVE ANDY CAREY

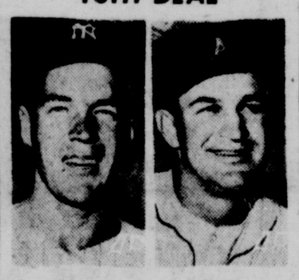
Chicago (AP)—The New York Yankees and Kansas City Athletics did it again Thursday when the Yanks traded 3rd baseman Andy Carey to the A's for outfielder Bob Cerv, a former teammate.

It was the 16th deal between the two clubs, involving a total of 61 players, since the Philadelphia American League franchise was shifted to Kansas City in 1955.

The Yankees acquired a power hitter to fill their left field needs.

In return they gave the A's a front line 3rd baseman who missed most of last season because of illness and was beaten out of the job by Gil McDougald in spring training.

16TH DEAL



Carey Cerv

Acquisition of Cerv gave the Yankees two-thirds of the 1959 Kansas City outfield. Roger Maris, hitting .333, came to the Yanks last December.

Cerv, a 34-year-old long ball hitter, normally plays left field. That has been a trouble spot for the Yanks ever since they traded away Gene Woodling.

Cerv, the muscular former Nebraska baseball and basketball player, had a tremendous year with the A's in 1958 when, playing with a wired up jaw after an accident, he drove in 104 runs, hit 38 homers and batted .305.

His average dropped to .285 last year but he hit 20 homers and knocked in 87 runs. This season he is hitting .260 with 6 homers and 12 RBIs.

Carey, 28, played only 41 games last year before he was placed on the disabled list, suffering from mononucleosis. He batted .257. McDougald took over the 3rd base job at St. Petersburg this spring, leaving the slick fielding Carey on the bench.

Manager Casey Stengel announced the deal shortly after the Yankees arrived here from Cleveland.

Cerv came up through the Yankee farm system after graduating from the University of Nebraska. He played with the Yanks in all or part of the years from 1951 through 1956, appearing in two World Series. He was sold to Kansas City, Oct. 15, 1956.

Carey had been a Yankee 8 years, appearing in 4 World Series. His best year was 1954 when he hit .302.

Cerv said, "I knew this was going to happen when we were in New York the last time (May 6-7): I got my information from a good source.

I don't mind going back to the Yankees and it looks like I might have a chance to play left field for them. I guess it will be between me and Yogi Berra."

Cerv said he would keep his home in Kansas City. His wife, Phyllis, is expecting their 8th child.

Prepsters Get Weather OK For First Day

. . . LARGEST STATE FIELD READY

By Al Beebe

Rain or shine, the state track meet goes ahead on schedule.

But the weatherman holds promise of good track weather for the opening today of the 58th Annual Nebraska High School Championships on the Memorial Stadium track.

Partly cloudy, temperatures in the 60s, and light to moderate northerly wind is the forecast. It should warm up further Saturday for the final run.

Only one of 4 defending champions rate a good chance of repeating in the big show, which boasts 879 competitors from 273 schools.

It's the biggest single gathering of athletes in Nebraska.

May Not Repeat

Broken Bow, in Class B, rates as meet co-favorite with Holdrege. The other defending kings, Omaha Central, O'Neill St. Mary's and McCook Red Willow, are not rated among top choices.

Columbus, Lincoln High and Beatrice are the leading favorites in Class A. Arapahoe and David City St. Mary's should fight for the C crown, with Polk and Lawrence in the top battle for Class D.

State tennis and golf titles are also up for grabs this weekend, with the tennis at NU opening at 9 a.m. in two classes.

Pioneers, Beatrice

Class B golf will be at Pioneers today, with A golf Saturday at Beatrice.

Today's track program opens at 10:30 a.m. with the Class B pole vault indoors. Other field events start at 12:30, with the first preliminary, the 120 high hurdles, at 1 p.m.

Several state records are threatened.

Hohn Big Star

Chief among the probable record-breakers is Bob Hohn of Beatrice. He already has a share of the high hurdle mark of 14.6, and last year beat the low hurdle standard of 19.8, but had his 19.6 nullified by wind.

His best marks this campaign are 14.2 and 19.0. Without wind, he is a cinch for new marks.

Hohn will also be bidding for top athlete honors in the broad jump and discus.

All 3 relay records will be under fire, and stiff competition may produce other new standards.

880 Only Final

The one track final on today's slate, the 880 (at 2:10) may not produce a record, but should be one of the better races of the meet.

Class A will have Bud Bettin of Norfolk as favorite, chased by Alliance's Jim Kettelhut, Bob Campbell of Lincoln Southeast, and Boys Town's Erwin Cheatum. The time should go below 2:00.

Phil Stineman of Superior will defend his Class B 880 title, while Class D has a trio of Wendell Hansen from Bladen, Axtell's Del Gustafson, and late-comer George Hueftle of Eustis to put on a good show.

4:30 Mile?

Mile competition on Saturday may produce a 4:30 clock from any one of several top contenders in the 3 largest classes.

Favored for the gold medal is Class B's Darold Dent from Burwell.

Saturday's morning program opens at 9:00 a.m. with field events, and the 2-mile relay is to be run at 10:30. In the afternoon, the program opens at 12:30 and 1 p.m.

POINT BLANK

Sports Editor, The Star

Stars Aplenty

When the runners chug off in the 1960 Big 8 outdoor track championships this afternoon, there will be several national stars in action

While the conference isn't as loaded this year as in the past two campaigns, the Big 8 still has plenty of horses worth wagering on in track competition (the parimutuels are closed, of course.)

Thanks to Don Pierce of Kansas, we can check Big 8 performances against the rest of the nation. His latest NCAA rankings show two conference lads top the field in their respective events.

J. D. Martin, Oklahoma's miraculous pole vaulter, is far ahead in his specialty with 15-9¾. Trailing Martin is his Big 8 rival, Aubrey Dooley of Oklahoma State, who has a 15-2¼ effort. Two others—Henry Wadsworth of Florida and Jim Brewer of USC—are over 15, both tied for 3rd at 15¼.

The other Big 8 leader is Bill Alley of Kansas who, as expected, leads the javelin tossers. But Big Bill isn't all by himself this year.

Alley's best toss to date is a fine 260-11, but right on his tail is Gary Stenlund of Oregon State with 260-4½. Bob Sbordone of USC is also near at 256-10½.

Huskers 10th

Nebraska's only claim to national ranking comes in the distance medley relay event where the Huskers are 10th with a 10:02.9 clocking.

Here are the other Big 8 national standouts:

Don Meyers of Colorado—4th in the broad jump with 25-0 (25-4 with aiding wind) and tied for 9th in pole vault with 14-7¾.

Mike Lindsay of Oklahoma—4th in shot put at 58-4, far behind the leader, Dallas Long of USC who has 64-6½; also 3rd in discus at 181-6.

Dick Cochran of Missouri—7th in discus at 176-9½.

Teddy Woods of Colorado—tied for 10th in 440 with :47.4.

Bill Dotson of Kansas and Gail Hodgson of Oklahoma—tied for 6th in mile at 4:09.5.

Billy Mills of Kansas—tied for 8th in 2-mile at 9:12.2.

KU Dominates

In relay events, Kansas has the upperhand exclusively. The Jayhawks are first in the sprint (3:19.8), 2nd in the mile (3:09.7), tied for 4th in the 440 (:40.9) and 8th in the 2-mile (7:37.8).

PS: If the parimutuels open, don't bet the ranch that Kansas will be upset by Oklahoma—or anyone else—in the outdoor carnival. There's little chance KU will have as much bad luck outdoors as it did indoors—dropping the baton in the deciding mile relay, for example—and the Jayhawks have strength in most of the added events.

Betsy's 34 At Hillcrest Wows Exhibition Gallery

. . . MISS RAWLS TOPS DOROTHY SCHWARTZKOPF

By Don Bryant

Betsy Rawls is the Ladies PGA champion and was the top winner on the gals' pro golf circuit in 1959.

Thursday afternoon she showed more than 100 Hillcrest Country Club galleryites just exactly why.

Following an entertaining and informative clinic, the personable and relaxed Miss Rawls toured the back 9 at Hillcrest in a sizzling 5-under par 34 to best her exhibition opponent, Mrs. Dorothy Schwartzkopf.

Mrs. Schwartzkopf, 1959 Lincoln and Nebraska champion, had a very respectable 3-over par 42, despite some wood difficulty, but Betsy—who had only one bad shot during the round—was sensational.

Spectacular Show

Despite the muggy overcast weather, high winds, wet grounds and sprinkles on No. 17, the gal PGA champ registered 5 pars, 3 birdies and a spectacular eagle on No. 18.

Mrs. Schwartzkopf matched the pars and picked up a bird but straying tee shots cost her a pair of bogies and a double bogey.

In match play, Miss Rawls captured 6 holes and the two champions halved 10, 15 and 17.

Here's the card:

Par in	553	445	355—39
Rawls in	552	344	353—34
Schwartzkopf in	573	454	455—42

Miss Rawls demonstrated her big league abilities with long tee shots, pin-point approach shots and deadly putts.

Richard Helps

Twice during the match, Hillcrest Pro Bunny Richards proved his ability as a journeyman caddy.

On No. 15 Betsy had an uphill shot into the wind, about 170 yards, and started to use a 2-iron.

"You'd better go in with a 4-wood," Bunny advised, and she dropped the ball expertly on the green.

It was No. 18 where Miss Rawls really wowed the gallery. Again at Bunny's suggestion, she hauled out a 3-iron and neatly boomed the ball a mere 3-feet past the pin to insure her eagle.

Both gals drew cheers for sinking long putts. On No. 13, Betsy sank a 30-footer for a bird, and Dorothy dunked a similar putt on No. 15 for a par to halve the hole.

Miss Rawls praised the Hillcrest course following her dazzling performance.

And, following Richards' advice on No. 18 which netted her an eagle, Betsy promised:

Job As Caddy

"If you're ever fired as pro here, you have a job as my caddy."

Miss Rawls, currently on tour as a representative of a sporting goods company, left immediately atfer her match for New York where she will give an exhibition Sunday.

Cincinnati (AP) — Vada Pinson tripled off the scoreboard with two out in the 9th Thursday night to score Eddie Kasko with the run that gave the Cincinnati Reds a 5-4 victory over the Los Angeles Dodgers.

By the triumph, the Reds moved into 3rd place ahead of idle Milwaukee.

The defeat was pinned on Sandy Koufax who had allowed the Reds only 6 hits through the first 8 innings and had fanned 10. Koufax hasn't won a game since last Aug. 31.

Bucs Regain League Lead

. . . SMASH CARDINALS, 8-3

Pittsburgh (AP)—The Pittsburgh Pirates whipped St. Louis 8-3 Thursday night and took over sole possession of first place in the National League.

The Pirates, who have won 8 of their last 9 games, moved a half-game in front of San Francisco, whose game at Milwaukee was rained out.

Roberto Clemente sparked the Pirates' 13-hit attack with two doubles and a pair of singles.

Pittsburgh's Rookie Southpaw, Joe Gibbon, received credit for the victory although he needed help from reliever Fred Green in the 8th. His record is now 3-1.

Gibbon breezed along with a shutout until the 7th when the Cards put together 3 singles for their first run. He lost his touch completely in the 8th when he issued his only two walks of the game, uncorked a wild pitch and yielded a single that counted another run.

Md. Suspension For Sugar Ray

Baltimore, (AP) — The Maryland Athletic Commission suspended Sugar Ray Robinson indefinitely Thursday, jeopardizing his scheduled title fight with Paul Pender next month.

Maryland, lifting Robinson's license in this state for failing to show up for a fight here last Monday, asked the National Boxing Assn. to go along with the suspension. It also notified California, New York and Massachusetts—which are not in the NBA—of the action.

Dr. Andrews Lands First 'Big One', 484-Lb. Marlin

Lincoln Star Special

Honolulu, H.I.—Dr. Clayton F. Andrews of Lincoln, Neb., is Imperial Potentate of North American Shriners—and he's also quite a fisherman.

Dr. Andrews hooked a 484-pound marlin off Kailua-Kona during a deep-sea fishing trip, while attending the Western Shrine Association convention here.

Aboard the Lanikai II, skippered by Charlie Machado, Dr. Andrews boated his prize in 48 minutes.

"It's the first big one I've ever landed, although I've gone after them plenty of times in Florida waters," the Shrine leader said.

Also aboard the Lanikai II when Dr. Andrews made his catch was his son, David, and a Hawaiian friend, Tommy G. Rodenhurst of Honolulu, Potentate's Aid of the Aloha Temple here.

Mrs. Andrews is also enjoying the Hawaiian Islands' tour with Dr. Andrews and David.

Snyder Bats Home 4 Runs; A's Top Birds

Kansas City (AP)—Outfielder Russ Snyder, promoted to the starting lineup to replace departed fellow Nebraskan Bob Cerv, drove in 4 runs Thursday night as Kansas City downed Baltimore 7-4 in a game delayed 3 times by thunderstorms.

The loss dropped Baltimore a full game behind Chicago in the American League race.

Snyder, Oak, Neb., native who batted .307 as a rookie last year, had been limited to pinch hitting roles this season.

But the A's traded regular left fielder Cerv, of Weston, to the New York Yankees giving Snyder his chance. The youngster responded with 3 hits.

Walt Dropo also drove in 4 runs for Baltimore, two of them on a first inning homer.

Bud Daley started for the Athletics and gained the victory, his 3rd against two defeats.

A message from Valleyfield, Quebec to the U.S.A.

Why we refuse to bottle Imported O.F.C. Canadian at six years old

(We don't drink it that young, why should you?)

Some Dominion distilleries bottle their best known Canadian whiskies at two different ages. Six years old for sale in the U. S. A., but older for consumption at home. All better whisky makers sent you six year old, so when we began making O.F.C., we did the same.

Imported 8 year old

In time, however, we wondered: wouldn't you appreciate eight year old whisky as much as we Canadians? We decided you would. So we waited two extra years and now send you 8 year old O.F.C. at the price others ask for six.

Imported 12 year old

Now, we are also sending down some 12 year old O.F.C., the very oldest Canadian whisky exported to the U. S. A. This international gift whisky is more expensive, but worth it.

As a final touch, both 8 and 12 year old O. F. C. come tissue-wrapped and boxed throughout the year.

CANADIAN WHISKY, a blend. Distilled, aged, and blended under supervision of the Canadian Government by Canadian Schenley Ltd., Valleyfield, P.Q., Canada. 8 and 12 years old. 86.8 Proof. O. F. C. Distilling Co., New York, N. Y., Sole Agents in U.S.A.

Telephone System Purchase OK'd

The Nebraska Railway Commission reported Thursday it has granted permission to the Diller Telephone Co., Diller, to purchase the Virginia Cooperative Telephone Co. system.

Also approved were the certificate and necessity and convenience to serve the Virginia area, approval of execution of securities and loan, establishment of a schedule of rates, and cessation of free service between the Virginia company and the Liberty Independent Telephone Co.

The commission also set several hearings:

May 24, in the Capitol, on the application by the United Telephone Co., of the West, Scottsbluff, to issue $800,000 in first mortgage 5⅜ per cent bonds and execute the mortgage indenture.

May 26, in the courthouse at Red Cloud, on the application by the American Communication Co., Inc., of Belleville, Kan., to acquire the Farmers Independent Telephone Co. of Red Cloud, and the exchange at Invavale.

College Group Endorses Seaton

Hastings (UPI) — The Hastings College Young Republican Club has unanimously endorsed a Hastings resident for the Republican nomination for vice president.

Club President John L. Martin, Kearney, said the club has endorsed Secretary of Interior Fred A. Seaton, who owns newspaper and broadcasting outlets in the midwest, including Hastings.

"The excellent leadership abilities and personal qualities exhibited by Mr. Seaton as secretary of the interior in addition to his being a native midwesterner place him as a well qualified candidate for the GOP vice presidential nomination," Martin said.

Charles Lamb, English essayist of the early 1800s, wrote that, "Newspapers always excite curiosity. No one ever lays one down without a feeling of diappointment."

Man Trapped In Boxcar 60 Hours 'Kept Praying'

Council Bluffs, Iowa (AP)—"If anyone ever did some praying it was me."

And his prayers were answered said Melvin Joseph Simmons, 54, who was trapped for about 60 hours inside a railroad boxcar.

Simmons, in good condition at a hospital, said he climbed into the boxcar at Ottumwa last Saturday morning.

The car started up with a jerk, he said, and some lumber inside the car fell over and pinned his foot. The boxcar door slammed shut at the same time and became jammed.

"When I found the door jammed I knew I was in a pickle," he said. "I can't describe the feeling of being trapped. The walls seem to close in on you."

The boxcar sat here throughout Sunday and then Monday evening it "started jerking all over the yards," Simmons said.

Ray Rocha, a carman in the Rock Island railroad yards, heard a tapping on the car door and investigated. He found Simmons inside.

Simmons suffered from dehydration and an injury to his foot.

He said he was coming to Council Bluffs to seek work at a hospital.

L.A. Relays Attract Top Track Stars

Los Angeles (AP) — Attracted by a galaxy of track and field Olympic hopefuls, a crowd of about 50,000 is expected to attend the 20th annual Coliseum Relays tonight.

Sprawling Los Angeles has a built-in small army of thousands of track fanatics who will hustle to see any meet, no matter what the talent might be.

So with Australia's great miler, Herb Elliott, now installed as the main attraction of a fine field of athletes, additional thousands are expected to sit in on the affair.

Elliott, who holds the world record in the mile (3:54.5) and the 1,500 meters (3:36.0), figures to get his toughest test from the former Hungarian, Laszlo Tabori.

Shot put competition vies for interest with the 1,500 meters despite the absence of Parry O'Brien and the doubtful status of Bill Nieder. Set to go, however, are Dallas Long and Dave Davis.

The 100-meter dash lost most of its lustre with the withdrawal of Ray Norton.

But slated to run are two speedsters on the comeback trail, Texas' Bobby Morrow and Dave Sime.

Glenn Davis, world record holder, renews his rivalry with Josh Culbreath, and starts a new one with youngsters, Dick Howard of New Mexico and Rex Cawley of Southern California in the 400 meter hurdles.

HOST HASTINGS CHOICE FOR NCC GOLF, TENNIS

Hastings — Host Hastings College rates a slight favorite in both golf and tennis during the Nebraska College Conference tournaments today.

The Broncos are most likely successors to Kearney in tennis and to Nebraska Wesleyan in golf.

Steve Gleason, Hastings sophomore, has the inside track for the singles throne vacated by Kearney's Pat Kayden in tennis.

Coach William McCall's Hastings golfers are undefeated against NCC rivals

The Bronco links team includes sharpshooters Dick Kistler, Dick Stephens, Larry Linn and Lynn Hoepfinger.

Big 10 May Drop Round Robin Play

East Lansing, Mich. (AP)—A recommendation to kill the controversial round robin football schedule was made Thursday by Big 10 athletic directors and coaches.

Assistant commissioner Bill Reed said that the recommendation had a preponderant backing but was not unanimous.

It would keep in effect the 1965-66 football schedule basic pattern which calls for 7 conference games by each school out of a 10-game overall slate with the privilege of each school having 3 home conference games a year.

The 1965-66 schedules are now being mapped by coaches and were to have marked the first step in the round robin plan adopted in 1958.

This would have called for 8 conference games in a 10-game program in 1966 and '68 and a complete round robin of 9 conference games in 1969.

The recommendation, which in effect knocks out the last two stages of the round robin plan, will go before the joint group of faculty representatives and athletic directors for consideration.

Presently and up through 1964 Big 10 football schedules provided for 9 games overall with some schools generally playing 6 or 7 conference games.

6 Counties Form Water Association

Bridge Chairman Of Steering Committee

Norfolk (AP)— A permanent organization to promote flood control, irrigation and soil conservation projects along the Elkhorn River and its tributaries was formed here Thursday afternoon.

Robert T. Bridge, Norfolk feed mill operator, was named chairman of a 7-member steering committee, and the organization took the name Elkhorn Valley Water Resources Assn.

Other members of the steering committee were named to represent the 6 counties which have indicated interest so far were: Conrad Hunke, West Point, Cuming County; Lawrence Schnabel, Clearwater, Antelope County; Elmer Juracek, O'Neill, Holt County; Bob German, Pierce, Pierce County; Harry B. Nicholas, Stanton, Stanton County; and Floyd Curtis, Tilden, Antelope-Madison Counties.

50 at Meet

Some 50 persons representing 12 communities along the Elkhorn and Northfork Rivers attended the organizational meeting.

The steps in organizing such projects were outlined by Kenneth Ristau of the Omaha district office, corps of engineers; and Loren Higgs of the Grand Island Bureau of Reclamation area office.

Ristau said specific groups now working for watershed district development, soil conservation and flood control could overlap without injuring the function of the overall association. The latter, in fact, was designed to tie all phases together.

"If this is properly handled we could go directly from here to a feasibility study or flood control or irrigation," Bridge said. "We must contact our congressmen and let them know what we want."

Confessed Murderer's Return Planned

Gering (AP) — Scotts Bluff County Sheriff Steve Warrick and Safety Patrol criminal investigator Lt. Leo Knudtson will leave Friday for Klamath Falls, Ore., to return 49-year-old William Morice of Scottsbluff on a murder warrant.

A first degree murder warrant for Morice was issued by the Sioux County Court, on a complaint signed by W. E. Mumby, county attorney. Sheriff Lew Sherill asked Warrick to make the trip for him at Sioux county expense.

Morice surrendered to authorities in Klamath Falls Wednesday and admitted killing Walter Larson, 50, Crawford, Neb. rancher, 3 years ago.

Larson, a recluse, was found lying in the shack where he had made his home on the 320-acre farm settled by his parents in the early 1900's. He had lived alone following the death of his parents about 12 years ago and rarely came to town. He had been dead several days when his body was found by a neighbor. He had been felled by a shotgun charge.

Nebraska News

In Klamath Falls Sheriff Murray Britton said Morice gave this version of the August, 1957, shooting:

Morice was short of money and found out from a woman friend that Larson kept cash at his farm home.

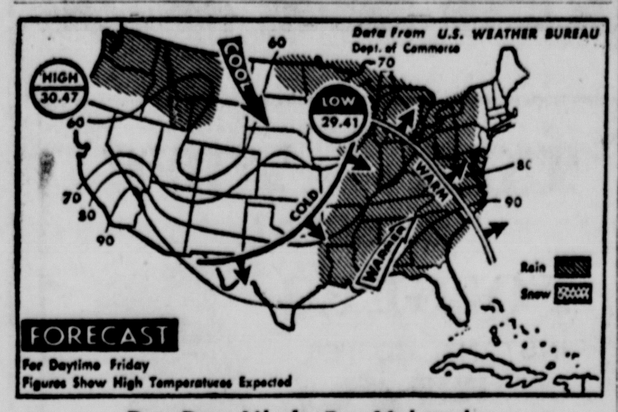
Together they went to the farm. Morice said he leveled the gun at Larson and fired the fatal shot when the rancher tried to reach a gun of his own.

Woman Not Identified

Morice related that he came to Oregon early in 1958 and returned to Nebraska last February. Wednesday night he came to Klamath Falls and made an unsuccessful attempt to talk with the woman he said he was with at the time of the slaying, Britton said. The name of the woman was not disclosed.

Warrick and Knudtson said they will attempt to talk to the woman involved but they do not plan to seek her arrest.

Warrick said he had been looking for Morice since Monday after a note found in the apartment was turned over to him. He said Morice had named the woman in question in the note.



Dry Day Likely For Nebraska

Scattered showers and thundershowers are foreseen Friday afternoon from the Mississippi eastward to the Appalachians down to Virginia and south Atlantic Coast and the east Gulf coast except Florida. Light showers are slated for the northwest. The rest of the nation should have fair weather. (AP Wirephoto Map)

School Board Group Not Supporting Proposed Constitutional Amendment

Holdrege (AP)—The Nebraska State School Boards Assn. announced Thursday it will not support a currently proposed constitutional amendment to bring state sales and income taxes to Nebraska.

Petitions to place such an amendment on the November general election ballot are being circulated by an organization known as Nebraskans for Constitutional Amendments, Inc.

Richard C. Brown, executive secretary of the school boards association, released a statement quoting the association's executive committee as saying the measure would cut the schools' property tax base even further without any promise or relief to the local property levy which in most cases far exceeds the state levy.

The proposed amendment would abolish property taxes on intangible property and exempt from taxes the first $2,000 worth of personal household goods and effects of any taxpayer.

"The school board association has long favored improved financial support for public schools through a broadened tax base and state support," the organization's statement said. "The current proposal offers no assurance that any new tax funds in excess of state needs would be returned to school districts and other local agencies. At the rate state spending is increasing, there is no certainty there would long be any surplus to allocate . . ."

Mid-State OK Is Advocated By McGinley

Washington (AP)—A House Interior Subcommittee was urged Thursday to push ahead on authorization of Nebraska's Mid-State Reclamation Project and to keep it clear of policy-setting tangles.

Rep. Donald F. McGinley (D-Neb), saying there is an urgent need for the $81 million project, added:

"I urge the committee to stick to the established background of legislation for the Mid-State bill, rather than to throw into it confusing legislative language that would set new policy and mark this project as either specifically favored or specifically restricted from others in the reclamation West."

Chairman Wayne Aspinall (D-Colo) of the Interior Committee took note to the approaching end of this session of Congress, however, and warned Nebraskans not to "get your hopes too high." He mentioned differences between the Interior Department and Budget Bureau on the proposal.

McGinley, in an opening statement at a subcommittee hearing, said Mid-State would not object to a 50-year repayment period for water users as suggested by the Budget Bureau instead of the regular 40-year basis.

Floyd E. Dominy, Reclamation Bureau commissioner, said there would appear to be no practical advantage in modifying this policy.

Merger News Boosts Rails

New York (AP) — Trading interest swung away from the spaceage defense issue and into rails, oils and selected issues as the stock market advanced again Thursday. Trading was heavy.

The badly battered rail shares were inspired by news of mergers to make one of their biggest gains of the year. Meanwhile, some oils rose from recession to gains of 2 points or more as professionals brought these "oversold" stocks.

The market was higher at the start but was mixed by mid-session. The oils, rails and some motors spearheaded an irregular climb in the afternoon which added an estimated $1.6 billion to the quoted value of stocks listed on the New York Stock Exchange, based on the rise in the Associated Press average.

Turnover was brisk and resulted in total volume of 3,700,000 shares compared with Wednesday's 5,240,000, the largest since 1958.

The Dow Jones industrial average rose 1.68 to 624.68.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks rose 1.20 to 216.10 with the industrials up 1.30, the rails up 2.80 and the utilities down .20.

Of 1,233 issues traded, 569 rose and 440 fell. New highs for the year totaled 38 and new lows 39.

Thirteen of the 16 most active stocks advanced and three declined.

American Stock Exchange prices were generally higher. Volume was 1,240,000 shares compared with 1,530,000 Wednesday.

U.S. government bonds shaded lower in very quiet trading.

Bond volume amounted to $6,220,000 par value on the big board, compared with $8,690,000 Wednesday, the highest turnover in eight months.

U.S. Labor Faces Up To Foreign Competition

The danger that low labor costs and improved machinery in free Europe and Japan may price some standard American products out of the market has rekindled speculative interest in Wall Street in so-called miracle stocks which promise extraordinary growth.

Rukeyser

If such reasoning is logical, it is at best a hedge for the nimble against deterioration of the economic position of the United States.

A more fundamental approach to the total challenge is to reduce the international cost gap through accelerating improvement of technological methods on the one hand, and governmental laws, judicial decisions and tax arrangements, which impose burdens on the cost sheet of America manufacturers on the other.

Another procedure is for American labor leaders to encourage their colleagues in competitive countries to assure greater participation by their own workers in the fruits of the rising productivity in foreign lands.

Right after the shooting phase of World War II, before reconstruction started, numerous Old World labor leaders, shell-shocked and frightened, were uncommonly co-operative with industrial management, at the very time when domestic labor leaders were demanding annual wage increments over here. The effect was to widen the gap between foreign and American costs.

In the future, it would be constructive to reduce the disparity by raising foreign living standards rather than by tearing down what has been achieved in this country.

Similarly, exporters in Hong Kong and in Japan have shown extraordinary foresight and statesmanship in rationing the amount of goods to be shipped into our domestic market and elsewhere.

They had enough imaginative forbearance to know that indiscriminate flooding of the American market would bring reprisals. The logical response would be a clamor for edicts excluding such merchandise from sub-standard wage countries.

Incidentally, the growing threat of foreign competition is likely to shift the unions from supporting free trade and reciprocity to a demand for high protective tariffs. At best, this would be a stopgap while fundamental relief was sought through finding ways and means to put unit costs on a more competitive basis.

The ferment incidental to new types of global competition creates many reactions. Wise men in management are going through their company operations with a fine tooth comb to find economic waste which can be eliminated.

There is a greater understanding of the factor of obsolescence which calls for replacement of the outmoded with the new.

The enthusiasm for growth stocks is part of this new awareness.

The risk lies in prejudgment as to which new infant industries will become the giants of tomorrow.

Electronics, photographic equipment, mechanized bowling alleys and new inventions have caught the popular imagination. Research has become the tool of those activities which are destined to expand.

On a short-term basis, the buyer of shares must decide how much of the anticipated future benefits he is ready to concede to the seller of stock.

It is an illusion to assume that growth stocks can be acquired automatically on satisfactory terms merely by pressing the lever on a slot machine.

But there is a strong feeling among speculative groups that the race will go to the innovators.

Curtis: Ike Returning To 'United Nation'

Washington (AP)—Sen. Carl T. Curtis (R-Neb) said Thursday President Eisenhower will return from the summit conference "to a united nation" and he paid tribute to Senate Democrats for their contribution to this unity.

Curtis made the statement at the opening of the Senate in Washington Thursday.

"I wish to join with millions of Americans everywhere in commending President Eisenhower for his steadfastness and his devotion to truth and principle," Curtis said. "His leadership is appreciated by free men everywhere."

The Nebraska senator said the summit conference proved 4 things:

"1. That it is far better for a conference to reach no agreement than to reach an agreement that is wrong in principle and that would jeopardize the future of our republic.

"2. That the American people are alert as well as united; that they will back to the limit a government that stands for principle.

"3. That Khrushchev is now known to the whole world for what he is—the ruthless leader of a godless ideology.

"4. These recent events have also proven that communism has not changed."
